RUSSIANS LOSE THOUSAND MEN

General Keller's Force Is Whipped by Japanese Under Kuroki.

RETIRE IN ORDER

Gen. Kuropatkin Sends Long-Winded Explanation to Emperor Nicholas.

WAS "FEELING" ENEMY AGAIN

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

St. Petersburg, July 18.—Gen. Kuropatkin, in a message to the czar, admits the loss of more than 1,000 men killed and wounded in an attack made by Lieut.-Gen. Count Keller last Sunday on Gen. Kuroki's forces. The dispatch, dated "July 17, on our eastern front," is as follows:

"After the occupation by Gen. Kuroki's army of the passes in the Fenshui mountain chain, our information concerning his forces and dispositions was in general inadequate. According to some reports his army had been reinforced, and he had even extended his forces towards Saimatsza. Other reports stated that a displacement of his troops had been made in the direction of Ta Pass and Shi-Yen. There were even indications that Kuroki had transferred his headquarters from Tskhakhekan to Tsuinpu.

"On the strength of the information received, and on the basis of reconnaissances which had been made, the hypothesis was formed that the principal forces of the enemy were concentrated around Lian-Shankwan, and that their advance guards had been strengthened in the passes of Siacko, Wafankwan, Sinki, Lakho and Papau, as well as at Sybey Pass, two and a half miles north of the road, and half the height of Siackao Pass.

Three Columns Engaged.

"On July 17, in order to determine the strength of the enemy it was decided to advance against his position in the direction of Lian-Shankwan. Lieut.-Gen. Count Keller had been instructed not to start with the object of capturing the pass, but to act according to the strength of the force that he would find opposed to him.

"The left column of this expeditionary force, consisting of three battalions, was dispatched towards Sybey Pass. The center column commanded by Maj.-Gen. Kashtalinsky, consisting of fourteen battalions with 12 guns was destined to attack Siacko Pass, the heights surmounted by the temple, and Wafankwan Pass. The right column, one battalion strong, was occupying points where the roads leading to Sinkis and Lakho Passes cross interior, to cover the right flank of Gen. Kashtelinsky's column. The general reserve was left at Ikhavuen, and a portion of the force occupied a position at that place.

"At 10 p. m. July 16, the head of the column advanced from Ikhavuan. At 11 o'clock a battalion of the Second regiment dislodged a Japanese outpost at the point of the bayonet at the crossing of the Lakho and the Sinkis roads.

"The details of this engagement have not yet been verified, but its general course, according to telegraphic reports sent in by Gen. Keller, was as follows:

Swept by Artillery.

"During the night the Japanese had evacuated Siackao pass and the heights surmounted by the temple, leaving only outposts there. At dawn Gen. Kashtalinsky's column occupied these passes, driving back the Japanese advance posts.

"At about 5:30 on the morning of July 17, the Japanese in considerable strength and with numerous guns occupied Wafankwan pass and the mountainous bluffs to the south on the flank of Gen. Kashtalinsky's column. From this position, and from the crest of the mountains to the east of the heights surmounted by the temple, the enemy directed a very heavy rifle fire and artillery fire.

"Gen. Kashtalinsky advanced to occupy the bluffs, sending forward at first one and then three battalions, but the attempt failed, notwithstanding the support given by the horse mountain battery, as our field guns could not be brought into action on account of the nature of the ground.

"At about 8 a. m., Gen. Keller, who was directing the fight around Ikhavuen, deemed it necessary to lend assistance to

AN ULTIMATUM FOR PACKERS

Mr. Donnelly Threatens to Call Out the Allied Trades Today.

THEY NUMBER 13,000

Independent Butchering Establishments Are Planned in Chicago and Elsewhere.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF STRIKE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

Chicago, July 18.—Another effort is to be made to settle the strike by arbitration. Tomorrow President Donnelly, of the striking unions, will send to the packers another letter, asking for a conference. In this letter, Mr. Donnelly will ask the packers if in their judgment it would not be better to concede the one point in contention, the taking back of all strikers, than to continue the strike. The communication will also suggest that it is the belief of the strikers that they are, as old employes, deserving of this consideration.

If this offer of the union is rejected by the packers, Mr. Donnelly declared tonight, the allied trades at the stock yards, numbering in all about 13,000 men, will be called out tomorrow in an effort to bring the packers to terms.

Joseph Morton of the stationary firemens' union called upon the packers this afternoon and warned them that unless there was a speedy settlement of the strike his men would be compelled to quit work. While no definite answer was given to Mr. Morton by the packers he was received by them in such a friendly manner that he left the conference with the belief that there was still a strong probability of peace.

Will Open Independent Plant.

A flank movement by the strikers developed today in the announcement by President Donnelly that, in conjunction with William Sterling, vice president of the Butcher Workmen's union; John Fleersch, secretary of the packing trades' council, and Phillip Murphy, "champion butcher of the world," recently employed by Swift & Co., he will start a small packing house where union butchers may secure supplies at prices which will enable strikers to purchase meat without contributing to the profits of the big packers. Cattle and hogs have already been bought, said President Donnelly, the plant has been secured and operations will begin tomorrow.

The operating forces of the big plants approximated about half the normal strength today, according to reports given out. Armour & Co. had 2,000 men employed, Nelson Morris & Co. 1,800 and Swift & Co. 1,600.

Another Strike Victim.

Slugged into insensibility by a dozen men early today and left for dead on the tracks of the Ashland avenue trolley line at West Forty-seventh street, Anton Bartusiakovis, an employe at the Swift plant, is dying at the county hospital. His injuries, in the opinion of Police Inspector Hunt, were inflicted by strike sympathizers and the wheels of a trolley car.

The man, according to a witness who has talked to the police, set upon Bartusiakovis as he was going home from work. When they could not make him join the strikers they broke his skull, fractured his jaw, kicked him about the face, head and body and then threw him upon the car tracks. The motorman of a car approaching not long afterward saw the body in time to stop the car, but not before the wheels had crushed Bartusiakovis' shoulder. The injured man was taken to the county hospital. He has not regained consciousness.

Mrs. W. Clifford, attracted to her window by the sound of men fighting, saw the attack and declares she can identify several of Bartusiakovis' assailants.

Quaker City Falls in Line.

PHILADELPHIA, July 18.—The Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen's association has decided to fight the Philadelphia branches of the western packing houses. Since the strike started local independent butchers have been supplying in a small way the Philadelphia branches of the various western houses. Today Richard Butler of New York, secretary and treasurer of the Sheep Butchers' local union No. 10, came to this

Looking for More Trouble.

GORMAN CAN HAVE THE CHAIRMANSHIP

New York Democratic Conference Selects Senator to Manage Campaign.

AUGUST BELMONT, TREASURER

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, July 18.

If Senator Arthur P. Gorman of Maryland, will consent to accept the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee there is every reason to believe that the post will be offered to him when the new committee meets to organize in this city a week from tomorrow. Should Senator Gorman agree to take the post, it is probable that a campaign committee of 10 or 12 members will be organized to assist him, and William F. Sheehan may be requested to head this smaller committee.

This arrangement was favored by a majority of the Democratic leaders who met in the Hoffman house tonight to discuss plans for the campaign. Some of the western friends of Thomas Taggart of Indiana, who would like to see him made chairman of the committee, would prefer to have Senator Gorman in the chairmanship of the campaign committee. It was made clear to all the leaders who attended the conference that Judge Parker had made up his mind not to interfere in the selection of the chairman of the national committee.

All the leaders agreed tonight that August Belmont should be asked to take the treasurership of the committee if he is willing to assume the duties of that place.

Col. Guffey Presided.

There was comparatively little discussion of campaign plans pending the organization of the committee, but it may be announced that the Democratic managers do not intend to yield the region beyond the Mississippi without a struggle. They declared tonight that the Republicans would have to fight for more than one of the trans-Mississippi states.

There were present at the conference, which was held in David B. Hill's three rooms in the Hoffman house and three rooms that had been engaged for the occasion, Henry G. Davis, the Democratic candidate for vice president; Mr. Hill, William F. Sheehan, Senator Gorman, Edward Murphy, Jr.; Senator James Smith, Jr., of New Jersey; Col. James M. Guffey of Pennsylvania, Thomas F. Ryan of Virginia, August Belmont, John R. McLean of Ohio, Patrick H. McCarren of Brooklyn, Victor J. Dowling of Tammany Hall, State Chairman J. K. P. Hall of Pennsylvania, Cord Meyer, chairman of the Democratic state committee; Norman E. Mack of the national committee, James M. Head of Tennessee, Perry Belmont and John E. Kern of Indiana. Col. Guffey presided.

"The meeting was called primarily to enable the Democrats who were present to meet Mr. Davis," Col. Guffey said after the meeting. "An interchange of views followed, and the question of when the national committee should be called together for organization was discussed. It was agreed to recommend that the committee be called to meet at the Hoffman house at noon on July 26.

Taggart Did Not Attend.

"There was also some talk of the date for the notification of the candidates, and it was decided to refer this matter to the candidates themselves. A general discussion then followed as to the prospects of the party."

Thomas Taggart arrived in this city tonight, but did not attend the conference, being represented by Mr. Kern. There will be other conferences tomorrow and Mr. Davis will go to Esopus Wednesday to see Judge Parker. Senator Gorman

DEMOCRATIC STATE CHAIRMAN BOLTS THE NATIONAL TICKET

Iowa Leader Resigns and Says His Party Has Been Bound and Gagged, and Delivered Over to Wall Street.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

IOWA CITY, IA., July 18.—The Democratic state convention, which meets here tomorrow to nominate state officers, will be completely controlled by the conservatives. The Hearst element, which carried the former convention by a narrow margin, will be turned down. State Chairman A. W. Maxwell of Seymour, who was Mr. Hearst's manager and was named by the last convention as chairman of the state central committee, has resigned after repudiating the Democratic national ticket in the following letter:

"Seymour, Ia., July 18.

"Unable to countenance, aid or support the candidates or platform of the St. Louis convention I have tendered my resignation as a member of the state central committee and as chairman of the same body. The announcement of my determination to repudiate the ticket has been delayed until this date in an effort to persuade myself that there was enough good in the candidates and the platform to justify me in remaining loyal to the ticket. Thus far I have discovered absolutely nothing to commend it to the voters of the country. Its surrender to Wall street has been so complete as to leave no doubt of the party's further course.

"Dominated as it is by the trusts of the country I can see absolutely no hope for the party in the future and no hope for the country if by accident Parker and Davis should be elected. The party has been bound, gagged and delivered bodily into the control of the very interests I have been fighting for the past eight years, and if its candidates, who are subservient to the Standard Oil Company and their trusts, shall be elected it must be without my aid or sanction. I shall in the near future issue a more extended statement of my reasons for refusing to support the ticket. In view of my inability to support the ticket, I, of course, shall not attend the convention at Iowa City. A. W. MAXWELL."

ELKS DISPLAY TWELVE MILES OF FIREWORKS

Set 'Em Off in Honor of Their Annual Reunion at Cincinnati.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, O., July 18.—Elks from everywhere tonight held a grand opening of their annual reunion in the form of elaborate fireworks for 12 miles along the Ohio river. Two large steamers carried members of the grand lodge, their families and friends, 3,000 persons, along the pyrotechnic banks of the river this evening after a trip to Coney Island.

As the boats neared Cincinnati the roar and flash of the fireworks increased until the exhibition closed with a mammoth illuminated picture of Grand Exalted Ruler Fanning at the Cincinnati public landing. Some 100,000 persons saw the illumination from the banks. Various entertainments were given tonight. Already 15,000 persons have arrived and more are coming.

The grand lodge opens with a public session tomorrow morning. O'Brien of Baltimore, for grand exalted ruler, and Robinson of Dubuque, for grand exalted secretary, are still favorites, as the so-called administration candidates, but the election of no one seems assured.

WOMAN IS CLAWED BY A DRUNKEN BEAR

Animal on Way to Elks' Convention Tore Her Clothing to Shreds.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, O., July 18.—One of two bears brought to this city this afternoon by a party of Elks who came to attend the national convention of their brotherhood, attacked an unknown woman and tore her clothing in shreds. It is said that on the way to Cincinnati the beasts were treated to beer, which infuriated them and made them unmanageable.

The charge of crowds at the depot, gathered to greet the delegates from West Virginia, tended to make the condition worse. The injured woman, about 25 years of age and well dressed, saved her face from being disfigured by dodging the claws of the animal. Before anyone could ascertain her name a cabman pushed through the crowd, picked her up and placed her in a cab and drove away.

LOST IRON ORE SHIP, BUT SAVED THEIR LIVES

Vessel En Route from Cuba to Baltimore Went to Pieces on a Coral Reef.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 18.—After a terrible experience in two rowboats, following shipwreck on one of the most treacherous coral reefs of the Antilles, Capt. William N. Brewin of the British steamer Aldborough, and his crew of 24, arrived here today on the steamship Altai.

The Aldborough, loaded with iron ore, left Duquiri, Cuba, July 5, bound for Baltimore. Outside the port the ship encountered a terrific storm which drove her against the reef of Oakland island. At the first shock the vessel went to pieces, the men barely having time to get into two lifeboats, which had been stocked at the beginning of the storm.

All night the boats kept as near each other as safety permitted, the huge waves threatening to dash them together. At dawn the main island of Oakland was sighted and, making for this the two boats were beached. Hiring a small schooner the men went to the Fortunate island, where they boarded the Altai.

Woman Wearing Nan Patterson's Horseshoe Ring Is Convicted of Theft.

NEW YORK, July 18.—(Special.)—When Mrs. Sarah Donovan was arraigned in the court of general sessions today she wore Nan Patterson's black gown and heavy horseshoe ruby ring, which her fellow Tombs prisoner had loaned to her, the ring being regarded by the Patterson woman, who is accused of the murder of "Caesar" Young, as a talisman. The Donovan woman was accused of stealing a silk dress and four waists from her employer. She said her husband did not support her.

Judge McMahon sentenced the young woman to the Bedford reformatory. According to the story she told the probationary officer, she is the daughter of Capt. Charles Townsend of the Imperial Steamship Company of New Orleans.

Whiz Cart Claims a Life.

CAPE MAY, July 18.—Just at dusk this evening a horse and farm wagon driven by Isaac Pepper was scared by an automobile of E. L. Miller of Philadelphia. The horse made a plunge and threw Pepper out on his head. He struck on a telephone pole, breaking his neck and killing him instantly.

KNOX TO PLUNGE INTO CAMPAIGN

New Senator Will Make More Speeches Than He Intended.

TALKS TO ROOSEVELT

Former Attorney General in Consultation With President at Oyster Bay.

ROOT ALSO IN CONFERENCE

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Oyster Bay, L. I., July 18.—President Roosevelt is calling his political advisers to his side one after another and mapping out the campaign with great vigor. This afternoon Elihu Root arrived to remain over night. This morning Senator Knox of Pittsburgh spent a couple of hours at Sagamore Hill, and others, recently of the presidential official family, are expected to reach Oyster Bay one after another.

The president has the greatest confidence in the political acumen and good judgment of the former secretary of war and the recent attorney general. To the former he wanted to read his speech of acceptance that is to be delivered after "Uncle Joe" Cannon formally notifies him that he has been nominated for the presidency. To both Mr. Root and Mr. Knox the president wished to express his desire that each should make several speeches during the campaign at points where their influence would count. Both are filled with the greatest confidence in the ability of the party to win again at the polls.

Mr. Knox's record in prosecuting the anti-trust cases has made him popular to the middle west. He had intended to speak once or twice during the campaign but the president has made it plain that every Republican who enjoys the confidence of his party and has received rewards in the shape of high positions in the federal service shall exert himself to the utmost degree between this and the first of November.

Before he saw the president, Mr. Knox said: "Oh, I shall make a couple of speeches, I suppose. One in Pennsylvania, probably, and another at whatever point the national committee may designate."

When he left Oyster Bay three hours later, after having luncheon with the president, he said:

"The president is certainly a great man to do business with. He gets right at the crux of matters instantly."

"How many speeches do you expect to make, Mr. Knox?"

"Well, I had not thought of talking more than a couple of times, but I may make more addresses than I had expected, after all."

Mr. Knox sails for Europe on the St. Louis, Saturday, to be gone five weeks. He returned to his country seat at Valley Forge today. When he returns from Europe he will plunge into politics.

Mr. Root would not say a word about the gossip connecting his name with the Republican gubernatorial nomination, nor the well-known preference of the president that he should take the nomination if the other party leaders concurred, but it is known that Gov. Odell is inclined to let the president's preference in this matter virtually decide the question of who shall be the nominee. The president put off a little reception he had planned for this evening, in order to be entirely alone with Mr. Root.

Another delegation came here today to discuss labor matters with the president. They had no difficulty in seeing him. They were J. N. Weber of Cincinnati, president of the International Federation of Musicians, and Maurice F. Smith of New York city, representing the New York Musical union. They want the contract labor law altered so that it will exclude all musicians coming here under contract, just as laborers are.

The members of the United Mine Workers' union, who telegraphed from Scranton after their conference yesterday, asking Secretary Loeb if he could arrange for a meeting with the president some day in the early part of this week, were notified that they would be welcome if they chose to come here at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow.

WEDDING FEE OF $100,000.

Cardinal Satolli Said to Have Received the Largest Compensation on Record.

NEW YORK, July 18.—(Special.)—Letters between friends of Cardinal Satolli, who is now in America, contain the statement that what is probably the largest wedding fee on record was paid to the cardinal by Martin Maloney, whose daughter was married at Spring Lake, N. J., a few weeks ago. It is stated that the cardinal was given $100,000.

The letters also state that Cardinal Satolli has decided on what he would do with the munificent compensation tendered for his services at the wedding. He will spend most of it effecting the repair and renovation of the basilica of St. John at the Lateran. He is the archbishop of the edifice. Cardinal Satolli has sent news home that he has been the recipient of many offerings of Peter's pence, some of them quite large, during his trip in the west.

KILLING OF A SLEEPING BRAKEMAN SAVES TRAIN

WHEELING, W. VA., July 18.—(Special.)—J. M. McCulloch of Dennison, a flagman on the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling railroad, was killed by an excursion train this morning and his death probably saved the lives of many passengers in the 12 well-filled coaches. McCulloch had worked two days without rest and when sent ahead to flag the excursion train, fell asleep on the track and was fatally mangled. The passenger crew stopped to ascertain the extent of his injuries and thus averted a collision with a freight train.

FOUR ARE DEAD FROM THE HEAT

Lightning Adds to Torrid Record, Striking Five Houses.

21 PEOPLE SHOCKED

High Temperature Followed by Severe Electrical Storm, Which Did Much Damage.

LITTLE RELIEF FROM HEAT

Torrid heat, followed by a heavy storm of lightning, thunder, rain and high wind, yesterday, added more victims to the already long list for this summer. The hot weather of yesterday was felt to a greater extent than on the previous day because more people were working, and much suffering, especially among workmen, was reported from all sections of the county. Four are dead, seven were prostrated, 21 were shocked by lightning and five houses were struck, making a record for one day seldom equaled in this section.

THE DEAD.

WILHELMA WAGNER, 1-year-old daughter of William Wagner, died at the family home in Homestead of heat exhaustion.

MARY HANN, aged 18 months, daughter of William Hann, died at her home in Hazel street, Homestead, of heat exhaustion.

MRS. MARY LEWIS, aged 61, wife of William Lewis, died at her home in Homestead of heat exhaustion late Sunday night.

MILDRED FRYAR, aged 8 months, daughter of James Fryar of 119 Twelfth avenue, McKeesport, died of spasms caused by the heat yesterday.

THOSE PROSTRATED:

COLVIN CAMPBELL, while working on the new Diamond National Bank building at Fifth avenue and Union street at 5 p. m. He was removed to the Homeopathic hospital. His home is in Newark, N. J.

JOHN WELSH, an engineer at the Monongahela steel furnaces, McKeesport, overcome while at work. He was taken to his home in a serious condition.

WILLIAM RYAN, son of A. M. Ryan of Fifth avenue, McKeesport, prostrated and fell from a wagon during the afternoon. His condition was critical last night.

STEVEN YUHAS, a Slav, overcome while at work at the Homestead steel works, crawled under some freight cars and was run over. He is at Mercy hospital.

GEORGE LINCOLN of Forteith street, removed to his home during the afternoon, having been overcome while at work in the plant of McNeil Bros. Company, Twenty-ninth street and the Allegheny Valley railroad.

WILLIAM MWHIRTER, employed in the Continental tube works in Second avenue, removed to the Homeopathic hospital suffering from heat prostration.

MICHAEL RUDY of East Pittsburgh, unconscious from heat prostration for four hours at the Edgar Thomson steel works.

SHOCKED BY LIGHTNING:

RICHARD HARRIS, SR., of 218 Bell avenue, North Braddock, shocked and burned at his home yesterday afternoon.

THOMAS J. HARRIS, a son, was thrown from bed and rendered unconscious from the bolt.

MRS. ELIZABETH RUMBLE, a daughter of Mr. Harris, was standing in the doorway when the house was struck. She was rendered unconscious and remained in that condition for two hours.

RICHARD HARRIS, JR., was in the yard and was struck on the foot by a brick buried from the chimney. His foot was crushed.

MRS. THOMAS SLANE of East McKeesport was shocked by a bolt which struck her home.

TWO CHILDREN of Mrs. Slane, who were also in the house, were shocked.

ANTHONY BARLOTZ had his right arm rendered useless by lightning.

MICHAEL MAZOR was shocked and rendered unconscious for 20 minutes by lightning.

TWELVE LABORERS, who were sitting on a railroad track with Barlotz and Mazor, were shocked by the bolt.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

J. W. M'FARLAND'S home, Termon and Wheeler avenues, Allegheny, struck and set on fire. Damage slight.

THOMAS SLANE'S home, East McKeesport, badly damaged by lightning.

RICHARD HARRIS, SR.'S home in North Braddock, the occupants of which were shocked as related above.

MRS. MARY NUGENT'S unoccupied brick house at 412 John street, Braddock, was struck by lightning during the afternoon. A part of the roof was torn off.

BELFREY on Fourth avenue public school in New Kensington almost demolished by lightning during the afternoon.

At the Homestead mills, which reopened yesterday after a partial shutdown of many weeks, the workmen were almost unable to stand the intense heat, which was increased by the fiery furnaces. Many men played out during the day and some were obliged to go to their homes, being on the verge of prostration. Summer arrangements were put in effect and "spell" hands were put to work in nearly every department to assist the regular men.

In the McKeesport mills the men also suffered greatly, and many had to quit work. The attendants at the emergency hospital at the works were kept busy reviving workmen overcome by heat, and seeing that they reached their homes in safety. No serious cases were reported in the McKeesport mills, but in some departments work was temporarily suspended on account of the heat.

The highest temperature for the day was 80 degrees, and was reached at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. This is the official temperature and was taken on the roof of the Farmers bank building at Fifth avenue and Wood street. It was thought that yesterday's maximum would go higher than the maximum reached on Sunday, when the thermometer also reached 90, but shortly after 2 o'clock a heavy wind storm set in and cooled the overcharged atmosphere considerably. The storm was heaviest east of Oakland. In Allegheny it was felt more than in downtown Pittsburgh. During the hour when the storm was at its height the official thermometer fell back 11 degrees, bringing some relief to those who had to remain in the stores and offices.

In the Monongahela valley the thunderstorm was most severe. Rain fell in torr-

DECLARES THAT JAPANESE KILL WOUNDED COSSACKS

Correspondent Receives Verification of This Charge from Officers With General Keller's Forces—Assertions Are Supported by Photographs.

By FRANCIS McCULLAGH.

(Copyright, 1904, By New York Herald Co.)

LIAO-YANG, July 18.—I have returned from the furthest outpost in this hilly country and am at last at Liao-Yang, where I have interviewed Gen. Count Keller, whose position and force are very strong. Two trustworthy officers have assured me that the Japanese kill the wounded Cossacks and correspondence and photographs confirm the statement.

This is a picturesque, but bloody mountain warfare. Sometimes the Japanese are ambushed and killed, being entrapped in the mountains. The Japanese are always appearing in new places. When beaten they throw away all their clothes to facilitate their escape, and beg for life when overtaken.

I was struck by the contrast between the many refined officers, members of aristocratic families, and their primitive quarters in the mountains. The Japanese are said to terrorize the Chinese into giving information about the Russians who, nevertheless, treat the Chinese astonishingly well. An English military man here told me English soldiers would never show such restraint.

On July 9 three of the four Japanese divisions compelled Gen. Stackelberg to retreat from Liao-Chow, where the Japanese are now entrenched. The severest fighting expected for some months will be around Liao-Yang.

rents. During the storm the home of Thomas Slane in East McKeesport was struck and badly damaged. Mrs. Slane and her two children were in the dwelling and were shocked, but their injuries are not severe. In West Castle Creek about 18 Italian laborers took refuge under some cars on the tracks of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal Company. Lightning struck a mail on which they were sitting and about 12 were shocked. Barlow and Mayor were in the crowd.

Many shade trees were hurled down and about eight street cars on the Monongahela division of the Pittsburgh Railways Company were put out of service by the storm.

At the local weather office the following hourly temperatures were taken:

During the afternoon, while the atmosphere was the hottest, thermometers in the downtown streets registered over 100 degrees, but the day was not the hottest this year. The maximum so far was registered on May 25, when 91 degrees was the official record reported.

So far this year 21 persons have died from heat exhaustion and 22 have been prostrated by the heat.

Decided rain storms are promised by the weather man at Washington for today and tomorrow in Pittsburgh and vicinity. Little relief is looked for from the heat, however.

ALLEGED ABDUCTRESS OF PITTSBURGH GIRLS WINS

Wheeling Prosecutor Says He Cannot Convict, When Judge Rules Against Him.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WHEELING, W. VA., July 18.—Elizabeth Foley of Pittsburgh, will not be tried in West Virginia for the abduction of the Vautz girls of the South Side, Pittsburgh. She will be tried jointly with Alice Bradford and Teresa Stillwell and a second count charged them with forcibly detaining the girls in the notorious Alley C resort, conducted by the Wheeling women.

Judge Hagus sustained the demurrers to the first indictment and Prosecuting Attorney Nesbitt immediately had special grand jury drawn and an indictment framed to meet the views of the court. When Judge Hagus this morning in a lengthy opinion said that the second indictment was faulty, Mr. Nesbitt declared it was plain there was no chance to convict the women in West Virginia. He said the court had reversed itself, as in proof submitted an indictment found against Curley on a similar charge that Judge Hagus had held to be good and upon which Curley was convicted and is now serving a term in the Moundsville penitentiary. Judge Hagus replied that he was wrong either then or now, but as he had given more thought to the case under consideration, his ruling would have to stand. He declined Mr. Nesbitt's proposition to refer the matter to the circuit court.

NEAPOLITAN GIRL SAVES HER FIANCE

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 18.—Five hundred denizens of Mount Vernon's little Italy were involved in a riot tonight, in which five men were seriously injured, as a result of a dispute over bowling. Immediately a great crowd of the sons of Italy gathered, including a number of women. Had it not been for the prompt arrival of Chief Foley, Policemen Ember and Sergeant Ford, Detective Atwell, many more would have been wounded.

One pretty Neapolitan saved her fiance, who was knocked down and was about to be stabbed, by throwing herself upon him. She drew a knife and dragged him away, threatening at the same time to kill anyone who touched him.

PARKER'S CARES ALREADY BEGUN

Democratic Candidate Is Much Disturbed Over Selection of Chairman.

TAMMANY AND TAGGART SULK

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ESOPUS, N. Y., July 18.—There may be a clearing of the Democratic political atmosphere when Henry G. Davis, vice presidential candidate, and others come here from the conference in New York tonight and furnish Judge Alton B. Parker with details of the conference that came to him tonight in a fragmentary way over the telephone. At present there are apparently complications that are giving the presidential candidates food for solemn thought. Judge Parker has been in a very thoughtful frame of mind for two days. He has always been reticent, but now he seeks seclusion and retirement and evades callers as much as possible. One of the things uppermost in his mind is the responsibility attached to the final selection of the chairman to the national committee.

While John W. Kern did not during his visit here force the suggestion of Thomas Taggart's appointment as chairman, still the conversation between Judge Parker and his astute political visitor over Sunday and until this morning brought up the thought whether the failure to select Taggart would be to jeopardize the success of the Democratic ticket in Indiana. Taggart insists upon the chairmanship or nothing.

An equal cause for worry is the present attitude of lukewarmness on the part of Tammany toward the Parker and Davis ticket. Charles F. Murphy, in the first place, has never sent a letter or dispatch of congratulations to the selection of the standard-bearer made at St. Louis. The story comes from New York to Esopus that Fourth of Cockran has endeavored to have Tammany Hall arrange at once for a ratification at which Cockran has offered his services as the speechmaking feature. Those with whom Cockran has talked on this subject have thrown cold water on the suggestion for the time being, at least.

The hope of bringing about a reconciliation between Senator McCarren and Charles F. Murphy, and the establishment of brotherly love and harmony is not bright. Murphy has refused to communicate in any way with Judge Parker, or to contemplate making a visit here. In a great measure Murphy's threatening demeanor of quietude has been aggravated by the visit here of Senator McCarren. In the interest of harmony it is perhaps now considered better that McCarren's visit been deferred until after his early visit giving the impression to Tammany followers that Senator McCarren, their leader's arch enemy, is to be an important factor in the campaign to the overshadowing of Charles F. Murphy.

McCarren in talking with a friend after he left here directly said he gave the impression that he would have charge of the campaign arrangements in the state. This has caused Judge Parker considerable annoyance, if not actual embarrassment. David B. Hill has talked with Judge Parker at considerable length over the telephone during the last two days at various times. The sage of Wolferts Roost does not propose having William F. Sheehan or Patrick H. McCarren carry off all the laurel wreaths. Former Senator Hill proposes having something to say about the conduct of the state campaign willy nilly.

It is predicted that the full Tammany support for Judge Parker can only be purchased by a promise to Murphy that Tammany shall name the gubernatorial candidate and be permitted to fill one or two other places. These are demands that Murphy is expected to make as the purchase price for real, or simulated harmony.

Amounts to $75,218 30, After Commissions of the Executors Are Deducted.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

Mr. Hanna did not leave any real estate in this state. The personal estate in this state is to be used toward the payment of the legacy due to the son, Daniel Rhodes Hanna, under the terms of his father's will, which was admitted to probate in Ohio.

Mrs. Eddy's Gift, Which Was Dedicated Sunday

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, CONCORD, N. H.

The Christian Science church, dedicated Sunday, cost about $200,000, most of which was contributed by Mrs. Eddy. The architecture of the building is Italian Gothic and the exterior is of rock faced Concord granite. The stone tower is surmounted with a lantern which rises to a height of 165 feet and forms a landmark to the surrounding country. The designs were prepared by Messrs. Allen & Collins of Boston.

The seating capacity of the auditorium is about 1,000, and the quartered oak pews are a gift from the six Christian Science churches of Chicago. The interior decoration is quiet and attractive, and on the walls there are several Bible texts and quotations from the Christian Science text book.

The new church has a central location, near the state capitol, the postoffice building and state library. The citizens of Concord are justly proud of the new building, which forms a handsome addition to their fair city.

ASSASSINATION THREATENS FOLK

St. Louis Prosecuting Attorney Surrounded by Bodyguard at Convention.

TO BE NAMED FOR GOVERNOR

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., July 18.—The sensation of the Democratic state convention, which convenes here tomorrow, is the fact that there is a special guard following Joseph W. Folk, the Democratic candidate for governor. Detective Dunacher is in charge of the detail, which is from St. Louis. It was feared that the fearless prosecuting attorney, the enemy of bribe takers and of lawbreakers, might become the victim of an assassin, and to protect this the bodyguard from St. Louis was secured.

Mr. Folk made light of the report, but could not prevent some of his alarmed friends from forming a bodyguard around him and following him wherever he went. A St. Louis Indian, notorious in the world's fair city, who has been indicted at the instance of Folk, and whose name is withheld by those who reported the story, was talking in St. Louis about the convention.

"He'll never be nominated," said this man, referring to Folk. He declared that if nothing else prevented Folk from getting the nomination he himself would shoot the circuit attorney. All Sunday night the detective watched the home of Mrs. John W. Gardner, where Mr. Folk and his wife are staying, and Monday he followed Folk all about the town and remained in the Madison and other hotels that Folk and his party visited.

The farmers of Missouri, the men who whipped the machine, are in control of the Democratic state convention. For the first time in many years the politicians find themselves unable to dictate the platform and the organization of the convention.

Circuit Attorney Folk has 648 votes pledged to him, only 355 being necessary to a choice. A fight will be made by the old machine men to capture the organization. Congressman Vandiver, Folk's choice for the temporary chairman, will act in that capacity. Secretary of State Samuel B. Cook is a candidate for renomination and will test his strength by fighting Folk on the organization of the convention. Attorney General Crowe, who aided Folk in some of the boodle cases, is a candidate for re-election.

said tonight that he would be forced to return to Maryland tomorrow.

David B. Hills friends were eager in defending him from the charge made during the St. Louis convention that he had surrendered to the radicals on the money question. They pointed out that instead of compromising in the committee on resolutions over the money plank, he had been voted down by a majority of three to one and that if he insisted further the nomination for Judge Parker would have been rendered impossible.

All the Democratic leaders from other states desired to know what was the prospect for carrying New York, and in this connection there was some discussion of the candidate for governor this fall. Mr. Hill told the conferees that there would be no difficulty about obtaining material for a Democratic state ticket, as there are already five or six candidates for every place and the list has grown rapidly since the St. Louis convention.

LOOMIS SUFFERED BLOWS BEFORE FALL OVERBOARD

English Jury Decides That How He Met Death Was Not Established.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, July 18.—An inquest was held at Thurlstone, Devonshire, today on the body of F. Kent Loomis, the American who disappeared from the Kaiser Wilhelm II. June 20, and whose body was found Saturday morning at Warren Point, about 15 miles from Plymouth. Dr. Webb, one of two local doctors who conducted the medical examination testified there was a contused wound below and behind the right ear, indicated by the extravasation of blood in the scalp and a rupture of the covering of the brain. There was also a general bruise, involving the scalp and the integument of the brain on the left side above the ear. Both injuries, in the doctor's opinion, were caused before death. One of the blows was sufficient to cause death. They might have been the result of a fall or blows. Both blows were delivered horizontally. The coroner advised on open verdict, and the jury decided there was no evidence as to how the man died. The body will probably be taken to the United States for interment.

RODE FOR 100 MILES ASLEEP ON CAR'S TOP

Perilous Journey of Somnolent Traveler from Philadelphia to Baltimore.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Press Building.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 18.

When the Baltimore & Ohio limited express which leaves this city at 11 o'clock p. m., reached Baltimore early this morning, the trainmen were astonished to see a man stretched out on the roof of one of the cars. The trainmen climbed up to investigate and found that the man was asleep.

When they got him awake he gave his name as Joseph Coyne, of 2214 Brandywine street, and refused to believe that he was in Baltimore. Finally when the railroad men convinced Coyne that he had in his sleep ridden 100 miles from Philadelphia on the top of a train, he trembled under the realization of his experience. He had no idea how he got on the top of the coach.

Railroad men say that Coyne's escape from death was miraculous. The limited runs at high speed and goes around a number of sharp curves. Several tunnels are traversed on the way, and it is remarkable that the man was not suffocated by smoke. Another danger lies in the fact that the tunnel roofs are so little above the tops of the cars that had Coyne risen a foot in his sleep he would have been crushed to death.

TROLLEY LINES BEING ABSORBED

Process of Evolution Is Begun by Steam Railroads of Northern Ohio.

WILL EMPLOY ELECTRICITY

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, O., July 18.—The Cleveland Leader tomorrow will say that the big steam railroads of this territory will within 18 months acquire all or nearly all of the electric lines in Northern Ohio. Then the work of completing the development of the common carrier along modern lines will be started with a new energy. The carrier of the immediate future will be a hybrid—half steam and half electric. What the carrier of the remote future will be it would be hard now to say. The natural assumption is that it will be all electricity.

Continuing the paper says: "A number of railroad men and financiers were interviewed on this subject by a Leader reporter yesterday. Some sources of information were reached about which there can be no doubt as to their information on this question. The information vouched for by these men is that there is no doubt whatever that within the next year some of these traction lines will be taken over by steam railroads. In fact, there is in the hands of steam railroad men a carefully prepared list of traction lines, the financial position of which is known almost to a penny.

"The steam railroads are waiting until the time is ripe for these roads to be bought in, and they will then be purchased. The open market will not be resorted to, but sales will be made in a most quiet and yet effective manner. Expert steam railroad men have watched the capital development of some of the trolley lines. They have found them carrying capital stocks and bonds ranging from $25,000 to $60,000 a mile. Some of the traction lines are more heavily capitalized a mile than the Lake Shore Railway Company, one of the richest steam railroads in the world. To pay the expenses, the interest on bonds and dividends on stock many traction lines have only passenger business, and low fares at that. The traction lines, therefore, have been struggling under an immense expense. The steam railroads have been watching this development, and are ready to gobble up the distressed corpses.

"The Lake Shore, Erie, Big Four and other big roads are interested in these plans."

NEW YORK, July 18.—Official confirmation of the story that the New York Central, in its crusade against the competition of traction systems in the central part of New York state, has united with the Andrews-Stanley syndicate in the unification and control of the Syracuse, Utica, Rome and Oneida electric systems, was obtained today, both from H. E. Andrews and New York Central officials. President Andrews said:

The Cleveland (Ohio) interests controlling the Utica, Rome & Oneida street railways have acquired a controlling interest in the Syracuse Rapid Transit Company and propose to merge these properties into one system. The New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company has purchased an interest in these companies and will probably enter into a trackage agreement for the use of the West Shore railroad, to connect the systems of which Syracuse and Utica are the centers. Further extensions are in contemplation. The New York Central intends to aid the new company in taking care of and developing the short-haul traffic to the fullest extent."

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 18.—(Special.)—It is understood here, in connection with the purchase of the Syracuse Rapid Transit and the Utica & Mohawk Valley trolley lines by H. E. Andrews of Cleveland, that he will organize a corporation to hold and unite the various properties. Syracusans interested in trolley roads say that the West Shore will be electrified from Canastota to Syracuse, permitting the Utica & Mohawk Valley cars to enter this city over that line. The report that the West Shore would be electrified to Rochester is regarded as a move to influence the sale of the Rochester, Syracuse & Eastern railroad, which has expended $500,000 and has a right-of-way between the two cities.

NAN PATTERSON'S SISTER FAILS TO BE REINSTATED

Mrs. Smith is said to have acted for her husband, though concerning his whereabouts his family here disclaim any knowledge. He is now believed to be in Canada.

MORRISON IS TO SUCCEED SCHWAB

Pittsburgher Will Be Elected United States Steel Corporation Director.

A PRACTICAL MANUFACTURER

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Herald Building, Herald Square.

NEW YORK, July 18.

Thomas Morrison of Pittsburgh, it is understood, will be chosen to succeed Charles M. Schwab as a director of the United States Steel Corporation at the July meeting of the directors a week from today.

While comparatively unknown to Wall street men and the banking element in the steel corporation, Mr. Morrison is a practical steel manufacturer and once was superintendent and general manager of the Edgar Thomson plant of the old Carnegie Company. He has the reputation of being one of the brightest of the coterie of the Carnegie young men when Mr. Carnegie and Mr. Frick operated the great Carnegie works a few years ago.

There has been much speculation as to the successor of the former president of the steel corporation, who is now to end his connection with it as a director. Names of various men have been mentioned in Wall street and elsewhere, but never in any of the guesses made was the name of Mr. Morrison mentioned. It is understood the position in the directorate has been offered to him, and that after consultations with J. P. Morgan, Mr. Frick, Mr. Corey and Mr. Rogers, he has signified his willingness to accept it when the resignation of Mr. Schwab is accepted at next week's meeting.

In the directorate of the company the addition of Mr. Morrison is regarded as a step in the right direction. The banking and financial element in the board is thought to be represented sufficiently at this time, and it was the desire of the finance committee to strengthen the board by the election of a practical man, familiar with the steel and iron business, not only as a manufacturer but in a commercial way. He belongs to the group that Mr. Carnegie calls "my boys."

Thomas Morrison.

It is interesting to note that when the split occurred between Mr. Carnegie and Mr. Frick, Mr. Morrison placed himself and his sympathies with Mr. Carnegie. Both Mr. Frick and Mr. Corey, the president of the corporation, besides other influential directors, recognize his ability and fitness for the position of director in the United States Steel Corporation.

Mr. Morrison is a large stockholder in the corporation. Within the last few years he has not been in active business.

POPE IS DETERMINED TO PUNISH A BISHOP

He Regards the Dissolution of the Concordat by France as Certain.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ROME, July 18.—From the highest source it is learned that the vatican's views of the situation between the holy see and France is as follows: The pope regards the dissolution of the concordat by France as absolutely certain. The pretext is that the holy see was infringing the concordat, but as the visit of President Loubet to Rome, called on Bishop Geay of Laval to resign. He refused and was summoned to Rome to answer the gravest charges. The bishop appealed to the French government, which claimed that the holy see was infringing the concordat, but as the bishop had not been punished, Foreign Minister Delcasse acknowledged that the vatican was within its rights. However, while in the concordat itself there is nothing to show that the vatican was not within its rights, Premier Combes differs with his colleagues and bases his contention on the so-called organic articles, which constitute an enlargement or explanation of the concordat made by the French government and which was never acknowledged by the holy see. The pontiff is firmly decided to proceed with the case of the bishop, and if he is not in Rome on the 25th inst., will be suspended. The bishop was invited by Pope Leo XIII. to resign and refused to do so, showing the case is one of long standing. At the vatican it is absolutely denied that any other prelates are concerned in the question at issue.

SURRENDERED TO THE QUAKER CITY POLICE

Allegheny Man Who Took $150 Wants to Come Home and Square Accounts.

George McCullough, of Poplar street, Allegheny, yesterday surrendered to the Philadelphia police. He said that he had embezzled money from the United Presbyterian Publication board of Pittsburgh, and wanted to go home and square accounts.

The Rev. J. D. Sands, manager of the board, made this statement last night: "McCullough worked for us in the mailing department. About two weeks ago he was given $150 to take to the postoffice to pay the postage on our periodical. An investigation developed that he had disappeared and the bill had not been paid. His family thought he had jumped into the river, but I did not think so. I made an information against him before Alderman Anderson and will have the squire bring him to Pittsburgh. McCullough has enough money in bank to pay the $150, but I am not certain that the matter can be settled in that way. He is 28 years old and is married."

The Philadelphia McCullough told the police that after leaving Pittsburgh he visited Atlantic City, Cape May and Coney Island. Love for his wife had compelled him to surrender.

May Build Bessemer Plant.

SHARON, PA., July 18.—(Special.)—It is stated that plans are being drawn for a Bessemer steel plant, to be erected at South Sharon by the United States Steel Corporation. The plant, it is said, will cost $1,000,000. According to information from the same authority, the entire works of the Steel Corporation at South Sharon, including the pipe and skelp mills, will be in full operation the coming fall. The sheet mill is being converted into a continuous mill and will give employment to several hundred skilled employes.

Read About Those Fine New Pianos at $145 And up to $200

When we announced the sale of a special lot of pianos at $145 to $200, we expected many responses. But really, results have been surprising. The sale has been a very great success, and we feel that it has made hundreds of new friends for this store.

It's hardly necessary to call further attention to the character of these pianos. If they were not worthy of the house of Hamilton they never could have found a place on our list. You will discover, after even a cursory examination, that such pianos never sold heretofore at $145 to $200. However, the lot is not a large one and we cannot continue present prices indefinitely. Come right away if you want one of the tremendous bargains.

ANGELUS PIANO PLAYERS—SPECIAL

In addition to the second-hand piano players at the absurdly low prices we have marked them, we have placed on sale a few NEW Angelus piano players. The latter are in cases whose styles may possibly be modified by the manufacturers this fall. So we will let you have any one of this lot at about original cost rather than carry them into the fall trade. They comprise all the latest improvements up to date—and are the finest bargains yet offered in new and high class piano players. Bear in mind that we are letting only a few go out at these cut prices and a prompt call necessary. Those who wish to save money on an Angelus piano player will do well to call here at once.

THREE GRAND PIANOS GO QUICKLY

The confidence of the public in this establishment has been shown once more in a very forceful manner. In other words, we advertised three grand pianos the other day at special reductions and they were gone "in a jiffy." The public learned long ago to believe implicitly in the advertisements of this house.

Write or telephone if you cannot call at once.

OLD COMBINE IN SELECT BROKEN

Startling Exposure in Connection With Grant of Trolley Franchises Is Promised.

DETECTIVES GET EVIDENCE

"The combine which was reorganized in select council at the advent of the new councils this year has been knocked out, but I understand that an effort is being made to form a new combine. The purpose of this is to take a hand in the filtration question."

This statement was made yesterday by a prominent member of select council. He told how select council was "busted." "The old combine, which lost but one member in the former councils, was reorganized this year and a meeting was called. Quite a number of councilmen were standing in Fifth avenue and two detectives were seen nearby. This caused a stampede. It was believed the officers were on the trail of the combine. That was the last meeting ever held, and none has been called since.

"From all I can learn there are only a few members left. It could be easily seen, when the bank agreements with the new city depositories were on, that there would be a break in the ranks of the combine, because some of the councilmen who had belonged to it opposed the agreements. It was necessary to do a great deal of work to line up enough members to put the bank agreements through."

It is stated that a new combine is being formed and that the promoters expect to force the administration to deal with them before any filtration legislation is enacted. In connection with these operations of the old select council combine, whose operations are now suspended so far as can be learned, the report is that private detectives have been at work for several months past gathering evidence, and some go so far as to say that a sensational exposure will occur in a short time, which will involve a number of prominent officials.

The investigation, it is said, is being conducted on the lines of the one at St. Louis which resulted in the conviction of a number of councilmen and officials. The investigation has been quietly conducted and no word of it leaked out until evidence had been secured. It is stated by a person who has been assisting in the investigation that damaging evidence has been obtained in connection with the recent passage of traction ordinances and that the names of persons who are alleged to have distributed money and some of those who are reported to have received it are known and will be divulged.

Director Bigelow said yesterday that a meeting of common council would be called just as soon as City Solicitor Rodgers had drafted filtration ordinances. There will be two, one authorizing the issuance of bonds and the other letting the contract. The call probably will be issued today. Bigelow has been waiting on President Ward's return.

PHIPPS IS IN DENVER.

Mail Received Here Yesterday Upsets All Theories That Settlement Is Effected.

All rumors to the effect that Lawrence C. Phipps is in Pittsburgh with his wife, Mrs. Genevieve C. Phipps, and that a settlement has been agreed upon, were set at rest yesterday morning when four letters were received in this city from Mr. Phipps, bearing the Denver postmark and date line. Friends in Pittsburgh in touch with Mr. Phipps and his movements declared yesterday that he has not been further from Denver than Glenwood Springs in the last few weeks.

Both ex-Judge J. H. Reed, attorney for Mr. Phipps, and James S. Young, attorney for Mrs. Phipps, left the city early yesterday for the east to remain several days. In both instances it was stated that the nature of the business taking them away had nothing to do with the Phipps divorce suit. Each attorney has a different destination. Talk of settlement is still firmly denied.

POODLES DEFY BURGLARS.

Barking Dogs Prevent Robbery of Home of Prof. R. B. Dodds.

Two French poodles frustrated several attempts on the part of two would-be burglars to enter the home of Prof. R. B. Dodds, 3006 Kennett square, Oakland, Sunday night.

Shortly after midnight Mrs. Dodds, who was alone in the house, was awakened by the barking of the dogs. Going to a rear window she saw two men making efforts to pry open a window on the ground floor. Leisurely walking around to the front of the house the two men sat upon the front porch and discussed in audible tones the misfortune of encountering the dogs and shortly afterward made repeated efforts to force open the front porch windows. With the continued barking of the dogs the men left the house only to return and make efforts to gain access by side windows. Meanwhile Mrs. Dodds feared to make outcry. After a complete round of the lower part of the house, with frequent and determined efforts to force every available window, the men departed.

TERMS AGREED UPON.

Tin Plate Finishers Realize That a Reduction Is Necessary.

Another conference was held yesterday between the wage committee of the tin housemen and the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company to agree upon a wage scale for the ensuing year. An agreement has practically been reached, but some detail work remains to be done. None of the committee would disclose the terms upon which a settlement is being based, other than to state that the men will have to accept a reduction. President Powell of the workmen's organization said last night that the meeting will adjourn today.

The Amalgamated association wage committee will meet the officials of the American company Thursday to take action on the rebate question. The scale has been agreed upon, with the exception of the rebate which the Amalgamated wants abolished, while the company is demanding its continuance.

VAUDEVILLE IN PARKS.

At Kennywood and Calhoun the Bills for the Week Have Opened.

The bills for the week opened at Calhoun and Kennywood parks last evening. Calhoun had the Lasair Dog Circus. These dogs were at the park last season and made quite a hit. There were four acts in addition to the circus. Hastings and Sheldon, comedy singers, did a turn, while the Dorsettis, in their acrobatic dancing act, were a feature with Sis Clair and Carlisle comedy aerial wire artists. The Homestead Library band gave a concert at Kennywood with the turn of the four Flying Dunbars, high wire and trapeze acrobats.

Non-Union Men Secured.

The Pittsburgh steel foundry at Glassport, started its plant yesterday with non-union men. The firm posted notices last Saturday to the effect that a 10 per cent reduction would be effective Monday. The regular workmen refused to accept the reduction and new men were secured to operate the plant.

This Is Our Second Remnant Day

We have made prices—which no doubt our public has already scanned—that will tend towards drawing a large gathering here today. There is no recapitulation of our remnant news this morning, but instead we give women a list of the most

Generously Reduced Prices on Fine to Finest Lace Curtains.

At the prices quoted below it will be the very best kind of an investment for women, if they do not need the curtains now, to buy them for the Fall renovation of the home—or even to buy them for next Spring.

Tuesday, July 19, 1904.

The Gazette desires to call the attention of those of its readers who contemplate summer trips to the announcements of the many summer resort hotels published on page 14 of this issue.

A requisition for 100,000 yards of wire gauze has been made by Gov. Davis of the Panama canal zone. This is the largest single order for that material ever placed, the wire netting being for the protection of persons engaged upon the canal from the bites of mosquitoes, which are supposed to infect with malarial and yellow fevers. There are no details given as to how the wire gauze is to be used, but the amount requisitioned is large enough to protect buildings and workings. The application of this precaution will afford valuable evidence upon the mosquito theory and it may save life. The United States government can afford the experiment upon an even larger scale, so the requisition should be honored.

Though there has been much talk of a fight against the filtration bonds to be started in the city controller's office, we are informed the matter has not been decided finally. There is reason for going slowly here. There is no reasonable presumption that more illegal votes were cast for this issue than against it, if any were cast. The vote was less than half the normal of an interesting election for city officials, but it was larger than that polled on the bond issue of 1899. It was a representative vote. The necessity for water purification is urgent. For these reasons there is small ground for a contest, and gentlemen who begin one for the purpose of delaying this important work will assume a very heavy responsibility.

It is reported from Rome, on high authority, that Pope Pius expects abolition of the concordat by the French government. It is recalled that before the visit of President Loubet to Rome the pope had summoned Bishop Geay to the vatican, a summons that was not obeyed. Foreign Minister Delcasse decided, upon appeal of the case to France, that the holy see had rights in the premises under the concordat, but Premier Combes contended to the contrary, taking his authority from the supplement to the concordat, which was never accepted at Rome. Unless the bishop appears at the vatican before the 28th of this month he is to be suspended, and that will precipitate the issue. It is expected by the pope that France will refuse to recognize the order and will abolish the concordat without further ado.

We reprint a comment upon the recent trade excursion into West Virginia, which expresses the opinion that much of the natural trade of this city has been permanently pre-empted by the Forest City. This should stir the Pittsburgh business men to the determination to reclaim their own, and we are sure if they go after it in earnest they will get it. Pittsburgh has been remarkably prosperous and no less remarkably content with what has come to it without going after it. But the era of complaisance has passed. Pittsburgh is now ready to care for all of the trade to which it is entitled and the new Merchants and Manufacturers' association is going after it. It is now demanding excursion rates from the railroads for merchants who desire to come here to do their fall buying, and the campaign has but begun.

The stockmen of the west, as well as the consumers of meat, are now feeling the effect of the strike of packing house employes. The cattle pens of Kansas City are filled and no more stock can be shipped. The packers refuse to buy, and until the strike is settled the owners must continue to feed the stock on hand, which is sure to deteriorate in the pens, and their losses will consequently be heavy. Meanwhile, the battle goes on between the strikers and the employers, with no signs of weakening. Neither side appears to be anxious for arbitration and each finds some obstacle to such a settlement when it is discussed. Meats have advanced toward famine prices and it is not likely they will wholly recede for some time to come, if at all, no matter which side wins the strike. Truly the public is always a loser in industrial warfare.

The Missouri state Democratic convention meets at Jefferson City today, and it is conceded Circuit Attorney Joseph W. Folk of St. Louis will be the nominee for governor, despite the opposition of party bosses. Mr. Folk's campaign has been made on an anti-boodle platform and it is a victory which proves that the people, when aroused, have no difficulty in overthrowing evil influences. Certainly there will be a desperate fight in the convention, and it is likely that on the ticket with Mr. Folk will be some men who are not in sympathy with his battle for honesty in official life. But even so, it will be a well-won victory, especially if his proposed plank on boodling goes through as now written: "We sincerely declare unremitting warfare against corruptionists, and here announce the decree that there is no room in the Democratic party of Missouri for a boodler or corruptionist of any sort. We repudiate their support, invite them to leave the state and offer them shelter only in the penitentiary if they remain." Such a resolution is enough to drive a good many Missouri Democrats out of the party fold.

Russia's Latest Repulse.

Gen. Kuropatkin reports the losses of Gen. Count Keller in the attack upon Motien pass as "over 1,000 men killed and wounded." Gen. Kuroki has sent no casualty lists to his government, but reports an attack by two divisions of the enemy under cover of a dense fog and says they were repulsed, pursued and fled in confusion. Over 1,000 may mean as many as 2,000. It is the old story, repeated after every considerable engagement of the war, ending in the Russians flying in confusion.

Obviously the morale and aggressive tactics of the Japanese are irresistible. The Russians fight bravely enough for a time, but they break, yield and run in face of the indomitable "come on" of the Japanese, to borrow a phrase from the old campaigners of our own civil war. That is the thing that turns the tide of battle, where numbers are evenly matched, and it is that that turns retreat into rout.

Apparently Gen. Keller's attack on the Motien pass was made as a diversion for the relief of Gen. Kuropatkin. But if so intended, it failed. Gen. Kuroki's southern columns sent no men to strengthen the force at Motien. The northern columns began a movement to the southward in such haste that they disposed of some of their food stores to the natives to save transport, but the columns facing Kuropatkin simply continued their remorseless pressure. The Russian commander-in-chief is in a serious position, menaced by three armies that outnumber him in men and guns, composed of troops that are brave and aggressive to a fault. Just why they have not begun their attack is not clear, but the most reasonable explanation is that they are awaiting some event at Port Arthur before taking up the general engagement with the Russian main army. They have appeared content with driving in the Russian outposts and forcing Kuropatkin's divisions to concentrate in one locality, where they can be struck together.

At Port Arthur the action is growing more severe. Field Marshal Oyama's arrival was the signal for more aggressive operations, and it is simply a question of how long the Russians can stand the constant hammering of scores of siege guns. Gen. Stoessel's force is getting little assistance now from the Port Arthur squadron and can expect little, while the Japanese fleet is becoming more active in the attack. Port Arthur will be taken and the end of the siege will come when the Japanese believe the assault can be delivered without the payment of a too high price in human life.

Panama's Tariff Excitement.

The flurry at Panama over the application of the United States tariff to the canal zone has some interesting features. The excitement reported to exist over the matter suggests that the Panama merchants have entertained ideas of commercial opportunities more extensive than law would warrant.

Panama fixes tariff rates at her own ports to suit herself. The tariff of the United States applies only to ports of the canal zone. The only ports of entry are at Ancon, near the Pacific terminus of the canal, and at Cristobal, near the Atlantic end, and foreign imports will pay the same duties at these ports as at ports of the United States. Imports from Panama into the canal zone fall into this category, so that ideas of a commercial harvest from sales within the canal zone will have to be considerably modified. It is a case of moving into the canal zone or being put at a disadvantage in competing with tradesmen settled in that strip. The merchants of Panama do not like this prospect, but it is just what the treaty provides.

The Panama merchants have been having their imports landed at Ancon, so as to enjoy the convenience of the deep harbor and new wharves there. This facility should not be denied them, but an arrangement should be made by which they can import in bond, just as we allow goods for Canadian consumption to be landed in bond at Portland, Me. But this will not satisfy the present complaint which is occasioned by the revelation that the canal zone is no longer part of the Panama home market. That is, however, the proper and natural effect of the Panama treaty.

It may be found that it will be expedient hereafter to arrange the canal zone tariff with regard to its special circumstances. Any marked difference of tariff rates between the zone and the adjoining territory of Panama would operate as a stimulus to smuggling, which it would be very difficult to restrain. But in any event the canal zone will maintain its own ports of entry and imports for the consumption in the canal zone will not have to pass through the hands of the Panama authorities.

Sunday Ice.

Judge Audenried of Philadelphia yesterday made a decision adding to the list of necessities under the Sunday law of 1793. The case before the court involved the sale of ice on the Sabbath. Judge Audenried, in the course of his opinion, holding the sale of ice and milk to be necessities, declared that it would be just as reasonable to shut off a family's supply of water on Sunday as its ice.

There will be persons to dispute the wisdom of this judge, but there can hardly be a successful contention against his logic when all facts are taken into account. When the law of 1793 was enacted there were no large cities in this country. There were no public water systems worth mentioning. Drinking water was procured, fresh and cool, from private springs or wells needing no ice to make it palatable or wholesome. Milk was obtained from one's own, or a neighbor's cellar, as cows were to be found browsing in the streets or vacant lots of Philadelphia. Modern conditions include public water supplies, milk shipped long distances from the dairies and crowded quarters in the city where nothing can be kept in wholesome condition for more than 10 or 12 hours.

The sale of ice and milk thus becomes a Sunday necessity. The old law was wisely drawn to except "works of necessity" from its general provisions for penalties. Had it specified the "works of necessity" permitted, the law would have been repealed many years ago, because it would have become intolerably burdensome. It remains in the statute books and fully operative because its far-sighted framers intuitively provided for new conditions and left them to be met in the safe discretion of the honorable judges of the courts. Laws are good only as long as they command the respect of the plain people. This Sunday law has retained popular respect for more than a century because it has ever restrained unseemly doings on the Sabbath, but has permitted those works which the just judges have deemed necessary.

Electric and Steam Roads.

Official announcement is made from Cleveland that the Andrews system of trolley roads is to be reorganized under the protecting care of the Vanderbilt railroads. This system operates in the state of New York and much of it is parallel to the New York Central and West Shore railroads. It is also reported in Cleveland that a deal has been made for control of the Ohio and Michigan interurban trolley roads in the interest of the Lake Shore and Nickel Plate systems, also owned by the Vanderbilts. If this latter report shall be confirmed it will make the movement an important one.

Though the purchase of the Nickel Plate and West Shore railroad systems from the syndicate headed by the late Calvin S. Brice is ancient history, it is pretty well remembered. Mr. Brice's plan had been to parallel the Vanderbilt roads, with shorter lines on better grades. He was so successful that his roads were bought by the Vanderbilt interests at a handsome profit to Brice and his associates, in order that the New York Central and the Lake Shore roads might not have to meet competition in their territory. In the light of this history it must be assumed the present deal with the electric roads is significant of their ability to disturb conditions in the Vanderbilt belt.

There is another aspect to the matter that may mean something, also. The New York Central is installing electric power for its suburban service from New York city, as a result of the tunnel accident of a few years ago. It is carrying this far up the Hudson river, and it will require no vast expense to extend it to the trolley system now acquired. It may mean electric traction, in the near future, on the largest scale ever attempted.

A heavy storm at Esopus caused residents to fear that Judge Parker's house might be struck by lightning. But after his experience with the Democratic presidential lightning, the judge sat calmly through the storm without a tremor.

There ought to be a great demand for the Commoner these days. Col. Bryan's acrobatic mental feat of supporting the Parker ticket makes the work of the average humorist appear sad and solemn.

Since the three Indians who were before Magistrate Stewart yesterday admitted that the fight was started over the merits of a waiter, it is to be hoped that the waiter was liberally tipped.

An interview with Chief Devery at the pump on the water wagon candidacy of Dr. Swallow would certainly be picturesque, even if "de best chief ever" did not indorse the Pennsylvanian.

Much of the present heat is probably caused by the gathering of Democratic leaders in New York. But Judge Parker takes his morning swim and appears cool at least.

Since St. Petersburg officials insist upon the truth of the story that 30,000 Japanese were killed by mines at Port Arthur, it is evident the wish is father of the rumor.

Homestead's celebration because of more work to be done proves that town to have the right sort of citizens. People mostly celebrate escape from work.

The man who was rammed by an automobile commanded by Admiral Schley can be depended upon to be against any increase in the naval force.

A Chicago man has sued for divorce because his wife smokes cigarettes. Oh, well, she can save the coupons and get a new husband.

Japan and China are already negotiating in anticipation of the defeat of Russia. How this must grind on the czar's nerves!

Candidate Davis says Col. Bryan is "an honest man and a good father." This ought to win some of the silver vote.

Chicago and Pittsburgh seem to be contesting for heat honors. Give them all to Chicago. We never were selfish.

The horse is king at Atlantic City this week and the automobile is relegated to second pebble on the beach.

It speaks well for Bandit Raisuli's hospitality that Perdicaris would like to see him boss of Morocco.

An Iowa Democrat has gone insane over politics. Evidently tried to digest that platform.

Talked of in Gotham

By ALEXANDER DODDS.

(By Postal Wire to The Gazette.)

NEW YORK, July 18.—The Republican workers of this state received an unexpected verdict today when Senator Thomas C. Platt announced that the "Sunday school," his summer institution at the Oriental hotel, Manhattan beach, had been disbanded. The "easy boss" has departed for the hills of Orange county, where he will try the experiment of being a farmer. The place at Highland Mills was formerly known as "Villa Euen," but in view of the recent marriage of the senator, he decided this sounded too bridegroomish and he and Mrs. Platt changed it to "Tioga Lodge." From his 30 acres on a hilltop, with its running spring and mossy stones, the senator will each day come down to the city and here meet his business and political associates.

It is said the departure from the beach is due to a desire to eliminate the arrival of undesirable guests at the political confabs and that hereafter when he has a political appointment it will be fulfilled in the city. The "Sunday school," as the weekly conferences were termed, has been in session every summer since the Oriental hotel was opened in 1880. It was here that all the political coups in which the senator figured were planned and for years the workers of the entire state have made pilgrimages to the piazza on the beach. In fact so noted were these meetings that they became one of the drawing cards of the hotel with the Sunday patrons. A pretty little shady pool and a house of 18 rooms, however, the senator has decided, will be his for the coming summer, and he hopes to have a restful time while others boil in the heat of the campaign.

Fried Chicken Estranges Pastor.

Elmhurst's cobblestone Baptist church that was built with a view of christianizing the actor settlement in that pretty little Long Island town is closed. The cause is one of the strangest that has ever been before any church association. Pastor Noble has an unconquerable appetite for fried chicken and depended upon his congregation to supply the tasty dish, he being a bachelor. According to the story in circulation the actor colony accepted the advent of the minister in their midst with good grace, but when it came to serving fried chicken at meal time, the sight of the bird that produces the hen fruit was too wearing upon the nerves that trod the boards before oftentimes a not over discriminating audience for an entire season.

They take their nerves to Elmhurst for a rest. There are also other objections to the Rev. Mr. Noble. When he crawled under the mahogany of some of his members, it is said, he failed to use good judgment in his criticism of the age of the birds at some of the other homes at which he had been a guest. There doesn't seem to be any hope of an early settlement of the differences and the chances are the colony will get out of the notion of being good before peace has again been established. Fond mammas also are quoted as saying the dominie is a too persistent bachelor to suit them and the chances are he will have to seek a new pastoral charge.

Old New York Fading Away.

The sale today of the old building occupying the site at No. 20 New street develops the fact that there is but one other house in the district known to Wall street people in the time of Jay Gould and Commodore Vanderbilt. The house sold today was an old inn and still has the great wood fireplace and the smoke begrimed benches at each side. It is but 25 feet square, but the Commercial Cable Company paid $125,000 for it and will soon use it in conjunction with another piece of property for an enormous skyscraper. The remaining other old building stands at No. 1 Wall street.

There are still many Pittsburghers who remember when the most pretentious building of the "street" consisted of a granite row with iron-railed stoops between Broadway and Nassau streets. There was a perfect labyrinth of passages and short cuts for the convenience of hurrying messengers, but 30 years have made a difference not only in buildings but in methods of finance, too.

Thousands Touch Sacred Relic.

Lighted by red gleams from hundreds of lamps and the yellow flame of candles, the crypt of the Church of St. John the Baptist, in East Seventy-sixth street, where reposes the relic of St. Anne, was the goal of thousands of deformed today, who waited anxiously for hours for an opportunity to kneel at the shrine and kiss the sacred relic. Behind the altar, piled high on tables and in racks, were crutches and canes and braces that had been discarded by the happy-faced worshipers who had been healed. For many years the novena at St. Anne has gathered thousands together, for the altar on which the relic rests was presented to the church by Miss Anne Leary and has become known to the Catholics as the "Lourdes of America," being as much sought as the famous pilgrims' shrine in France.

Poor New Jersey Twice Stricken.

Hoboken, the home of the twin screw mosquito, is in revolt because a new pest against which it is not immune has infested its classic precincts. It is a scourge of fleas that now plays havoc with the New Jerseyites and so indignant are they that they have carried the matter into the courts. The tribunal also had a touch of his fellowship and had to adjourn before it could dole out punishment to Samuel Voight, who purchased a lot of flea-ridden steerage bedding and thus set the entire city across the Hudson enacting capers in public that look not well in print. At a later day, however, the court between scratches announced to the lump decorated faces of the anti-flea host that a decision in the matter will be given.

More Trouble for Restaurants.

Just as the big hotelkeepers and the restaurateurs were congratulating themselves upon the fact that the beef strike was not going to leave them marooned upon a desert isle, comes the information that the luscious soft shelled crabs, for which the tables of this city are noted during the summer season, are very scarce and that the price is to shoot skyward at once. Many of the crabs for this market come from the neighborhood of Baltimore and the price has risen to 65 cents a dozen. The average price is 40 cents. No explanation is offered for the failure of the crop, but it is hinted that it was not discovered until the butchers' strike created a demand for crab meat and the gatherers say their opportunity for a little extra profit.

One Idea of Waste.

"There's mighty few people," said Farmer Cornstossel, "that knows what to do with a farm after they get one."

"I have noticed that," answered the girl with frizzes. "They always insist on filling the whole place up with corn and oats and things when they might have such lovely tennis courts and golf links."—Washington Star.

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

The old-time whisky that has been referred to in this column recently appears to stick in the craws of some of our readers.

Well, that was the sort of whisky it was, and the sort our forefathers sought for and would have fought for if they couldn't have gotten it in any less strenuous way.

It is a good sign when people rise up and speak their minds on this or on any other question, but particularly on this one, for it is looming up as the question of the hour.

The people, however, have a peculiar way of dealing with national evils. Instead of pitching into them at the time of their appearance they first seem to be amused, then disgusted and finally turn and destroy them root and branch, as they did slavery. But it will be a very long time before we get rid of the sequences of slavery.

It begins to look now as though the people are getting very tired of the liquor curse and disgusted with it, too. The next thing in order will be an uprising that will result in ousting the evil.

That a sentiment favoring the abolition of drunkenness is growing, there is no doubt, and when the people get together, heart and hand, there will be something doing.

* * * * *

Dear Quiet Observer:—I have read for some months your column daily and carefully, and I think your thoughts are the very best. Yours of the 15th and 16th contain more, and will do more good, than any 20 temperance lectures I ever read or heard.

I write you hoping to influence you to make a talk on saloons. I am certain you can best the ablest temperance man I have ever heard or heard of.

I have traveled over most of the earth, and have drank some of the liquors of most all nations, and can truthfully say they are all injurious.

Since finding a very noble and loving, and good life partner, who has brought two bright-faced, smiling little girls, who add their smiles to hers, to make me happy, I quietly said to myself (without any pledges or swear-offs), as she is doing far more for me than I am for her, I'll cut it out, and I did, and now I am going to drop the smoking, and drink very slightly of coffee.

I began this letter that I might say to you that after looking over the world I believe that there should be saloons in every city, but they should be forced to sell unadulterated liquors, and to keep open front, and one solid room—no back or side entrances—like candy and ice cream parlors.

The only people on earth who care to hide behind a screen are law-breakers, and there should be no screens for them.

I hope you will live long and be healthy and happy in writing an article every day.

A YOUNGSTOWN ADMIRER.

Youngstown, O.

* * * * *

Mr. Quiet Observer:—I am one of the teachers of Eastern Ohio who is a constant reader of The Gazette and of your brisk and instructive column.

Among the many good big chunks of common sense you daily dish out to us you sometimes let slip a small particle that we cannot swallow so readily, just to make us careful as to what we are taking.

In your article on whisky of Friday, July 15, you appear to charge some of the poor results of the training on the evils of intemperance to the preacher, the teacher and to the text-books on physiology.

This, in my opinion, is not where the shoe rubs.

The preacher is surely doing his duty in this line, denouncing, admonishing and pleading, to the extent that his efforts approach dangerously near the "old chestnut."

The teacher is required by law to instruct and train on the effects of alcohol and the evils of intemperance, and I must say it is of the most pleasing and interesting of the teacher's duties.

The modern text-books on physiology are all right, true to life, accurate and interesting.

So why is it that the drink habit is worse now than in early times?

The fact is we have been "barking up the wrong tree" these 50 years or more. We have been making the saloonkeeper the criminal and the fool, who acquires the drink habit, the man to be pitied.

We guard our children against dishonesty and theft and are fairly successful in guiding them along the paths of integrity. Why? Because he who steals is a criminal, is punished by law and becomes an example of wrong-doing to the growing generation.

But how about the moderate drinker who never gets drunk, that respectable gent who makes his regular and frequent trips to the bar, and that other good fellow who always has some of the hot stuff about him and is wont to publicly treat his friends? Does the law regard these men as criminals? How about their example to our boys?

I do not wish to make a temperance lecture of this, but allow me to add that in my work as a teacher I have painted the results of whisky to the boys in all its hideousness, have seen their faces pale and their lips tremble at the portrayal of the awful effects of this poison called alcohol, only to see a large percentage of these same boys become drinkers.

What's the trouble? Drinking, in the eye of the law, is not wrong.

These bright boys who learn more by example than precept are scarcely out of the school room until they see the tipsy gent winked at and the drunken man laughed at.

Where's the wonder, if they say: "The teacher was only giving us a joke. Come on, let's have a drink"?

Look up that bloated old toper, that shining example of the personal liberty to drink when and where you please fake; quarantine him, so to speak, for he is a greater public nuisance than he with the smallpox.

Take away the demand for liquor and the saloon's death-dealing days are numbered.

Make drinking a crime, in that it renders a man a public nuisance and a danger, give the parents, preachers and teachers some tangible support in their training business and the liquor question, as a national calamity at least, will have been solved.

FAIRPLAY.

Fairplay, O.

There is something wrong just as sure as you are born, else social and moral progress would be much more rapid than it is.

Do you know what is wrong, and can you suggest a remedy?

Of course, if parents were to rear their children as they ought conditions would greatly improve, but for some reason or other they don't do it. None of them want to see their boys grow into drunkards any more than to see them grow into criminals of any sort. And yet they allow them to contract and develop the drinking habit without making any serious effort to prevent it. Would they allow them to grow to be criminals with as little effort to save them?

Yes, there is something wrong, and the very best that can be done is to look around sharply with a view to finding out what it is. Those who stand for temperance and sobriety should talk it over, compare notes and try to figure out some practical plan by which the curse may be abolished. Like slavery, or any other national evil, nothing less than abolition will bring the desired results.

The first thing is to create a good, healthy, and widespread sentiment in favor of reform. There is no better way in which this can be done than by the establishment of lodges of Good Templars, Sons of Temperance, and the like.

IT IS TO SMILE.

Muggins—So you finally mustered up courage to propose to Miss Springer, eh? What was the result?

Huggins—She dismissed me without ceremony.

Muggins—Oh, well, don't you care. The absence of ceremony saved you the minister's fee.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"Yes, she's swell enough," said the Chicago girl.

"But her forefathers?" suggested the Boston girl.

"Oh, gracious, don't make it any worse than it really is. She's only had three."—Philadelphia Press.

His rich uncle had just died.

"I am undecided," he mused, as he fingered over a big roll of bills, "whether to go to St. Louis and live at a hotel, buy an automobile and let the garage people repair it, or purchase a nice beefsteak."—Cleveland Leader.

What's in a Name

THE STROLLER.

Even the experienced traveler sometimes gets into trouble by using a ticket bearing someone else's name. It happened to a well-known traveling man, as told by himself, while sitting on the piazza of an Atlantic City hotel the other day. The tale was recalled to his mind by the fact that he was sitting next to a Pittsburgher who was deeply interested in the columns of The Gazette.

"That paper reminds me of a funny situation in which I was involved when leaving Pittsburgh on one occasion," he remarked by way of introduction. "I had bought a piece of mileage from a broker intending to save a little money between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. As soon as I got on the train I began reading The Gazette, and by the time the conductor came along I forgot everything but the news item I was reading. Mechanically I handed him the mileage. Then it suddenly dawned upon me that I had forgotten the name on the book, and therefore could not sign it.

"'You'll have to sign this,' said the conductor, handing it back to me.

"'Oh, no, I don't,' I replied. 'I signed that book when I bought it, and I'm not going to do it again.'

"The conductor argued and expostulated, but all to no effect. I positively refused to sign. What I was doing was 'sparring for wind,' hoping that something would turn up to put the proper name in my mind. I was afraid to take a look, for fear the conductor would suspect. Fortunately, he had to rush off to finish taking up the tickets before reaching East Liberty, and he left me in possession of the book.

"'I'm afraid you are in the wrong,' said a man across the aisle from me, who had overheard the argument. 'You'll certainly have to sign the book.'

"'I know it,' I replied, 'but I had forgotten my name.' He saw the point and laughed.

"Pretty soon the conductor came back and demanded to know if I were ready to sign the book.

"'I have signed it,' I replied, with assumed indignation, 'and I call on the gentleman in the next seat to witness that I did it under protest.'

"That satisfied the conductor, who didn't care for the protest, and we were all happy," concluded the narrator.

The drummer's story recalled—as stories always do—another man's experience with a ticket, this time an editorial passbook. The gentleman in question is a business man in a small city on the Santa Fe in Colorado. In the course of business he had a large amount of printing to be done, and the printer, who is also editor of the local paper, one day gave him his Santa Fe book for a short trip up the road, as an evidence of his appreciation. The business man used the book without incident, and upon his return dilated upon the beauties of being an editor and riding free whenever you find time to get away—which is usually seldom for the busy country editor.

A few days later the editor found an excuse to make a trip. He packed his grip and idled himself gaily to the train, armed with his pass and a sense of having won a well-earned rest. But it is the editor who usually has his troubles, and he was no exception. When he handed the conductor his ticket it was promptly returned.

"You can't work that on me," he said. "It hasn't been a week since I carried the editor himself. You'll have to pay your fare or leave the train at the next stop."

In vain did the poor editor explain and argue that he was the real article. The conductor wouldn't listen to any sort of an argument but the cash, and cash it had to be. It is safe to say that the next man who rides on that editor's pass will, as the Irishman said, walk.

"I was out in Denver," said a third member of the piazza party, "and a guest of my hotel was a railroad conductor. I did not know what road he worked on, and only knew him to be a conductor from the fact that he once appeared at breakfast wearing his uniform. I knew him as one usually knows the guests of a hotel in which he stops for several months, and sometimes even happened to sit at the same table with him.

"When I decided to return to the east, I hunted up a scalper to save a little money on the fare to Chicago. I got a mileage book with some long German name on it, and spent half an hour learning to spell it. It was over the Rock Island. That night I was comfortably seated in a Pullman, planning some happy times when I got back into the old stamping grounds, when I was almost paralyzed to see my conductor friend of the hotel come along lantern in hand.

"'Hello, old man,' I said to him as I signed the book and passed it up to him.

"He looked at the book, then calmly tore out the mileage, and passing it back to me, remarked:

"'That's funny. You know I have always thought your name was Johnston.'

"There was not the slightest evidence of suspicion in his voice or manner, but I have often wondered if he had not deliberately allowed me to ride on a ticket to which he knew I had no legal right."

Slightly in line was the next tale related, of how an unsophisticated girl saved herself a long walk by a bit of strategy. She was not accustomed to traveling alone, but that she was not without the saving grace of wit is proven by the story. As it happened, her journey took her across a division line of the road where conductors were changed. The first conductor took up the red ticket she gave him, punched it and returned it. She did not understand that she still had use for that bit of card board, deliberately tore it into little pieces and dropped the pieces from the window.

When the second conductor came around for her ticket, she was frightened to the point of telling the plain truth that she had torn up her ticket. The story did not go down with the conductor, who told the young woman that he would be back in a few moments, and meanwhile she was to find her ticket or produce an equivalent in coin of the realm, which was practically impossible as it was her return journey, and who ever returns from a pleasure trip with money in pocket?

Mechanically, however, the girl looked into her purse. There was not enough money to pay her fare, but a gleam of hope came from a bit of red cardboard she saw there. Carefully she tore it up into the most minute fragments. You could never have told whether it had originally been a piece of blank paper or a ticket to Kamchatka when she got through with it.

When the conductor returned, the girl was looking pensively out of the open window.

"I told you I had torn up my ticket, and now I can prove it," she told him, opening her hand and exposing the red bits. Then she calmly put her hand out of the window and allowed the fragments to scatter in the rush of the wind.

"I beg your pardon for doubting your word," said the conductor, and he passed on, satisfied.

THINKS WE ARE LATE.

Cleveland Leader Says Ohio City Has Pre-empted Northern Pennsylvania's Trade.

Pittsburgh's newspapers are congratulating the members of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association of that city on the results of a successful trade excursion into West Virginia, and are speculating upon the future advantages that will accrue to the Smoky City from the movement.

Taking it for granted that the trade of West Virginia has been captured, The Gazette declares that Northwestern Pennsylvania will next be invaded. "These territories," it says, "are as naturally tributary to Pittsburgh as is West Virginia, but they have been diverted, at least partly, to other trade centers by original lines of communication."

Of course there can be no objection to the invasion of the sections named by the merchants of Pittsburgh, but they are likely to discover that the field has been pre-empted by the active and hustling merchants of Cleveland. For several years now trade excursions have been going out from this city, and there is little territory in Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Western New York, Northwestern Pennsylvania, and West Virginia, for that matter, which has not been covered. It is somewhat surprising, perhaps, that the merchants of Pittsburgh have delayed so long in meeting this competition, but they appear to be awake at last, though too late, probably.

It will be found extremely difficult to get ahead of Cleveland in trade and what has been gained by the enterprising wholesalers of this city will doubtless be held.—Cleveland Leader.

NOT "BUTTINSKI," BUT BERNARD

Controller Larkin Tells What the "B" Stands for in His Name.

DEMOCRAT FOR ROOSEVELT

Controller Larkin says that his middle name is not "Buttinski," but admits that it fits, and appears to be rather well pleased that many people believe that the "B" stands for "Buttinski."

Controller Larkin was found in his office yesterday signing the bonds authorized some time ago for the purpose of paying off judgments held against the city. A remark was made about the monotony of the work and attention was called to the labor which will be connected with signing the filtration bonds. The controller ceased writing "J. B. Larkin" for an instant to reply:

"I am not at all certain there will be any filtration bonds to sign."

Just how he hopes to block the issue, he neglected to say.

Hates to Be Kept Out.

As the controller continued to sign his name, he was asked what the initial "B" stood for, being reminded that the full names of really great men are seldom known until the obituary editor gets to work. He replied that "B" was for "Bernard." When told that many of his admirers thought it was for "Buttinski," Mr. Larkin dropped his pen. "I never heard of that before," said he, "but it fits. I do like to 'butt in' when some one is trying to keep me out."

Controller Larkin has paid the $8,500 bill presented by the county, covering the expense of ballot and other printing for the bond election. He was at first disposed to withhold approval, but after the matter had been explained to him yesterday by H. T. Rowley, chief clerk in the commissioners' office, the city official was satisfied that the price was not too high. The total cost of the bond election will be about $15,000.

One Democrat for Roosevelt.

Hide-bound Democrats, who are endeavoring to make themselves believe that President Roosevelt is trying to force the country into war, and for that reason is unsafe, are amusing. They were just as ready to denounce gold and Wall street eight years ago, and are now content to take orders from the Belmonts. Occasionally one meets a Democrat who does not have the ability or disposition to flop about, and each time a vote for Roosevelt is located. A city hall Democrat of this kind was found yesterday. He summed up the situation thus:

"My party is trying to make itself believe that Roosevelt is crazy. I have made up my mind he is not a — — — eight ratification for an insane candidate, backed by a sane party than for a sane candidate, backed by an insane party."

Thomas J. Ford, chairman of the Republican county committee, will hold five big meetings in the county this fall. There will be one down town, one in the East End, one on the South Side, one in Allegheny and another in McKeesport. Orators of prominence will be secured for each rally. Senator Knox may be the speaker at the Pittsburgh gathering.

CORDOVA IS RETIRED.

Eloping Pastor Is Accorded the Priviledge of Resigning from the Church.

RED BANK, N. J., July 18.—(Special.)—Another chapter in the elopment case of the Rev. J. F. Cordova, formerly pastor of the South River Methodist Episcopal church, was closed today when the following statement was given out by the church authorities:

The Rev. J. F. Cordova, preacher in charge of the Methodist Episcopal church at South River, N. J., has surrendered his parchments as a deacon and an elder in the Methodist Episcopal church, and requested the presiding elder to present them to the New Jersey annual conference with the request that he be recorded as having withdrawn from the ministry and membership in the Methodist Episcopal church. By this, the said Rev. Cordova suspends his ministerial functions and from all privileges of membership in the church is consummated and would have been a formal decree of the committee of investigation until the next session of the New Jersey annual conference, at which time said conference will take final action upon the case.

It is certain that the New Jersey annual conference will concur in the action of the church authorities, to whom the matter was referred.

NO CHAIRMAN SELECTED.

Expected That Attorney Northcott May be Selected by W. M. O. Dawson.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 18.—(Special.)—William M. O. Dawson, Republican candidate for governor, intends to leave here for a four or five day stay at the home of Senator Elkins and will take his family with him to the mountains. On his return to Charleston to attend the meeting of the state Republican committee it is announced that the chairman of the committee will be selected.

The belief in authoritative political circles here is that Elliott F. Northcott of Huntington will be selected by Mr. Dawson as chairman. Mr. Northcott is at present assistant United States district attorney and was a prominent figure in the contests for nominations.

COTTON MILL OWNERS HELPED Y. W. C. A. WORK

SILVER BAY, N. Y., July 18.—Miss Florence Simms, of Chicago, extension secretary of the American committee, made the closing address at the Eastern city Young Women's Christian Association conference tonight. Miss Emma Hayes of Chicago presented the extension work in mill villages. The question of financing such a work remained unsolved until last winter when several cotton mill presidents in South Carolina joined in forming associations in the villages surrounding their establishments. They provided houses for class work and meetings, and employed secreteries for administration and Bible teaching, and a teacher of domestic science.

Lord & Thomas' New Calendar.

"One calendar in a thousand," is the expression used by many in commenting upon the artistic beauty, excellence and legibility of the calendar sent out annually by the well known advertising firm of Lord & Thomas, Chicago, New York and St. Louis.

Their this year's calendar, which appropriately arrives at a time when those long New Year's days become faded and obsolete, dates from July, 1904, to July, 1905, and is unusually attractive both in design and coloring.

It is possible for business men to obtain a copy of this calendar by addressing, upon their business stationery, Lord & Thomas, Trude building, Chicago.

TWO BRIDGE WORKERS KILLED

Breaking Hoist Gear Threw Iron Beams on Three Men at Hays Station.

BODIES ARE FOUND IN RIVERS

By the falling of a pulley on an iron bridge being built by the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railway at Hays station yesterday, two men were killed and one was seriously injured.

CHARLES FERGUSON, aged 31, of Greenup, Ky., instantly killed.

FRANK URBEN, aged 33, of Aspinwall; died from injuries.

WILLIAM HEFNER, aged 32, of Riverside, back injured.

The men were structural iron workers and engaged in hoisting iron beams to the superstructure. Just as a load was in midair a pulley in the hoisting gear broke and the cables, beams and large pulleys fell on the men below. Ferguson was caught beneath the mass of falling metal and ropes and died instantly.

Urben was taken to the McKeesport hospital and died at 7:10 p. m. Hefner is still in the same hospital in a serious condition. Both Ferguson and Urben were crushed about the head and body by the weight that fell on them. Ferguson's body was taken to Semmelrock's undertaking rooms on the South Side and will be sent to Kentucky for burial.

The body of Frank Sheehan of 1109 Rebecca street, Allegheny, was found in the Monongahela river above Glenwood yesterday afternoon. He was single, 47 years old. On Sunday afternoon he was walking up the Baltimore & Ohio railroad with John Curtis and John Gabert, and when near Brown's bridge decided to take a swim. He left his companions sitting on the river bank, took off his clothes and jumped into the water, striking out at once for the south bank. He had almost reached it when he sank.

Frances Marie Libby, aged 3 years, a daughter of Edward Libby of 736 Shawnee street, was thrown from a trap at Highland avenue and Station street and killed. Mrs. Libby and Mrs. Frederick Keebler with their children, were driving to Highland park, when their horse took fright at an approaching car. The vehicle was overturned and all the occupants thrown into the street. The child was dead when picked up. The others were not seriously injured.

The bodies of two more victims of drowning were recovered from the Monongahela river yesterday. The body of Price King, colored, of Fifth avenue, McKeesport, who was drowned while diving near the junction of the Youghiogheny river, was found yesterday morning.

The body of John Thomas of 7 Brady street, was found under the Twenty-second street bridge where he was drowned while bathing on Sunday afternoon.

Milton Vancovitch died at the West Penn hospital from injuries received while trying to board a Baltimore & Ohio freight train at Greytown. He was 24 years of age and a miner.

David Cassall, a foreman for the McNally Construction Company, was killed by a Pennsylvania freight train at Blairsville intersection.

HEAD OF A GREAT STATE HOSPITAL

Uses Pe-ru-na in His Own Family As a Catarrhal Tonic.

Dr. J. F. Ensor, postmaster of Columbia, S. C., late superintendent and physician in charge of State Insane Asylum at Columbia, S. C., writes:

"After using your Peruna myself for a short period, and my family having used and are now using the same with good results, and upon the information of others who have been benefited by it as a cure for catarrh and an invigorating tonic, I can cheerfully recommend it to all persons requiring so effective a remedy."—Dr. J. F. Ensor.

Hon. C. W. Butts, ex-member of congress from North Dakota, in a letter from Washington, D. C., says:

"That Peruna is not only a vigorous, as well as an effective tonic, but also a cure of catarrh is beyond controversy. It is already established by its use by the thousands who have been benefited by it. I cannot too highly express my appreciation of its excellence."—C. W. Butts.

Dr. R. Fobbins, Muskogee, I. T., writes: "Peruna is the best medicine I know of for coughs and to strengthen a weak stomach and to give appetite. Beside prescribing it for catarrh, I have ordered it for weak and debilitated people, and have not had a patient but said it helped him. It is an excellent medicine and it fits so many cases.

"I have a large practice, and have a chance to perscribe your Peruna. I hope you may live long to do good to the sick and suffering."

Only the weak need a tonic. People are never weak except from some good cause. One of the obscure causes of weakness and the one oftenest overlooked is catarrh.

Catarrh inflames the mucous membrane and causes the blood plasma to escape through the mucous membrane in the form of mucous. This discharge of mucous is the same as the loss of blood. It produces weakness.

Peruna stops the catarrh and prevents the discharge of mucous. This is why Peruna is called a tonic. Peruna does not give strength by stimulating the nervous system a little.

It gives strength by preserving the mucous membranes against leakage.

It gives strength by converting the blood fluids and preventing their draining away in mucous discharges.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh. There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years. Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.

MONEY MUST BE IN BANKS FIRST

Rodgers Says Filtration Contract Cannot Be Let Until Bonds Are Sold.

OPINION WILL DELAY WORK

"The filtration contract can not be let until the bonds are sold and the money actually in the city treasury," said City Solicitor Rodgers yesterday. This opinion, which has been given the administration, has spoiled its proposed plan of letting the contract in advance of the sale of the bonds. It means that work can scarcely begin on the construction of the filtration plant before October. Director Bigelow stated several weeks ago that he expected to begin work on the filtration plant before September. He believed the contract could be let at once.

Solicitor Rodgers says that the administration may advertise for bids and open them, but it cannot let the contract until the money is in the treasury. This was the course pursued by the administration in the case of the street lighting contract. Bids were received and opened before the passage by councils of the ordinance authorizing the letting of the contract, but the contract was not awarded until councils had passed the bill.

Assistant Controller Morrow, who is an expert on bond issues, declares that the filtration bond issue can not be sold and the money received earlier than October. Morrow says that a sale of the bonds can not be made sooner even if the ordinance authorizing the bond sale is passed by councils at once. Bids must be advertised for in the largest cities of the country, and after the bids are opened and the bonds awarded it has always been found necessary to enact extra legislation to satisfy some technical objection of the purchasers of the bonds.

The recent bond sale, amounting to $1,122,278, for the payment of judgments against the city, is a notable example. The bonds were awarded a Boston firm over two months ago and councils have passed three ordinances to remedy faults found in the ordinance by the firm buying the bonds. The bonds are at last being signed by the controller and the mayor and will be shipped to Boston tonight.

Director Bigelow said yesterday that he was giving Solicitor Rodgers all the time he wanted to draw up the filtration bond ordinance in such shape that bond buyers could find no fault with it. He hopes to speed the bond sale and to get the money in the banks in August or September if possible. Bigelow said that common council would be called as soon as Rodgers had the ordinance for the bond sale and the ordinance for the contract ready. Both measures are to be put through councils together if Bigelow has his way.

ALLEGHENY TO HAVE NEW DIGEST OF CITY LAWS

Chairman Henry Meyer Announces He Will Call Meeting of Committee.

Allegheny is to have a new digest. Harry Meyer, chairman of the council committee on digest, said last night that he would call a meeting of the committee in a few days and that some lawyer probably would be employed to make a digest of all city laws enacted up to 1904. The latest digest was issued about 10 years ago, and since then many laws have been enacted by the North Side councils which in effect repeal some of the former laws.

There is no record of the laws enacted subsequent to the last digest, except in the city clerk's office. The new city charter has also abolished many of the old laws, and the city officials and councilmen of Allegheny daily experience a necessity of a new digest. A meeting of the Allegheny digest committee has not been held for many years.

Pittsburgh has not had a digest since 1897, and since that year a mass of highly important legislation has been enacted. There is no intention of this city having a new digest, however, until next year, as it is believed that some amendments will be added to the new city charter by the next legislature that may affect laws now on the statute books. To compile a digest requires at least a full year's work.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S THANKS TO THE ORPHANS

The Rev. Father Michael Lynch of St. Paul's orphan asylum, Idlewood, who on July 13 forwarded a photograph of the institution with its 900 inmates on the large lawn surrounding the administration building, to President Theodore Roosevelt with a letter of congratulations from the youngsters, yesterday received this letter, signed by William Loeb, Jr., secretary to the president:

My Dear Sir:—The president requests me to acknowledge receipt of your kind letter and photograph of your beautiful institution at Idlewood, Pa., and to thank you and the orphans for your kind expression and congratulations, which he greatly appreciates.

BROWNSVILLE BOY IS EXONERATED BY COURT

Acquitted of Killing Assailant and Furnished Money to Return Home.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LA PORTE, IND., July 18.—Instead of being punished for killing Edward Wilmer with a stone last Tuesday during a quarrel in the Big Four construction camp near Greensburg, this state, William Kirner, aged 14, was tonight sent to his home in Brownsville, Pa. Kirner was released after the mayor had heard the evidence, and before he left the court room enough money had been raised by popular subscription to pay his way back home.

The boy pleaded self-defense in striking Wilmer with the stone, and declared he had not the slightest intention of killing him or of even inflicting a serious wound. He seemed much distressed over the death of Wilmer.

Kirner ran away from home several weeks ago with the intention of visiting the world's fair at St. Louis, but his money was exhausted when he reached here and he went to work as waiter in order to earn more. He was attacked by Wilmer without provocation.

STRENUOUS LIFE IN CARNIVAL GYPSY CAMP

Management and Performers in Homewood Show Make Counter Charges of Assault.

There was strife in the camp of the gypsy village at the Homewood board of trade carnival yesterday afternoon. As a result "Gypsy" Frank was arrested and informations were made late last night against Frank Condon and Joseph Bing of the Wright Amusement Company by Mrs. Mary Lallis and "Gypsy" Frank, charging assault.

Shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the Homewood police received a riot call from the carnival grounds where over 1,000 spectators were witnessing a free-for-all fight, in which "Gypsy" Frank and the gate keepers, with Mrs. Lallis, seemed to be playing important roles. Frank, tattered, torn and bleeding, was hurried into the patrol wagon and later released on a forfeit of $30 for a hearing before Magistrate Negley this morning.

According to the story of Mrs. Lallis, who is the proprietress of the "village" and is known as a gypsy, she has been paying the management $175 for two weeks' privilege on the grounds. She further states that the management asked her to provide buttons at 25 cents each for her 13 employes by which they might be identified on entering the grounds. This she refused to do and yesterday afternoon while away from the grounds, "Gypsy" Frank, her manager, attempted to enter the grounds when, she alleges, Condon and Bing denied him admission, violently assaulting him. Mrs. Lallis further states that she appeared while the conflict was in progress and interceding for her manager was herself attacked by the men and choked into submission, while kicks and blows were showered upon her. Late last night she appeared before Magistrate Negley and made information against Condon and Bing.

Previous to her appearance, a delegation of Homewood business men appeared before Magistrate Negley and spoke in strong terms against the treatment accorded Mrs. Lallis, their statements in general bearing out her allegations. A trio of hearings in the case will be held this morning.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY OF COSTLY DIAMONDS

Walter Strauss a Prisoner at Indianapolis Is Wanted by Pittsburgh Police.

Walter Strauss who was arrested in Indianapolis several days ago is wanted in Pittsburgh on several charges of larceny. Yesterday afternoon the Allegheny county grand jury found an indictment against him on an information made by Jesse R. Worley, a Fifth avenue diamond broker before Alderman McMasters. Worley alleges that Strauss secured $3,600 worth of diamonds which he failed to pay for. C. L. Kruger, superintendent of police in Indianapolis, yesterday wired the Pittsburgh detectives of their capture enclosing a photograph of the prisoner. Superintendent McQuaide telegraphed to hold the man. In a reply last night Superintendent Kruger stated that Strauss would be tried in Indianapolis on July 23.

The communications from Indianapolis indicate that contradictory stories have been told by the prisoner. The first intelligence received by Pittsburgh detectives was that the prisoner was Walter Stanton, a secret service officer of Pittsburgh and that he had been arrested for passing a forged check for $487.50 on a bank in New Orleans. Worley in his information before Alderman McMasters alleged that the diamonds were upset and the pick of the stock. Another charge of larceny was made against Strauss by Simon Roll, a tipstaff in the Allegheny county courthouse, who says he agreed to sell a $250 diamond ring to Strauss, but received no money.

MANY SEEK MISSING POLISH BANK OFFICER

Depositors of Polish Peoples' Bank Charge Head of Institution With Embezzlement.

Groups of excited Poles surrounded the Polish Peoples bank, Penn avenue and Twenty-fourth street, last night, discussing the whereabouts of the president, Michael Pomoazewski. Earlier in the day Inspector Robert Gray of the Lawrenceville police station, accompanied by a Pole, one of the depositors who had $125 in the bank, made diligent inquiries for him.

Pomoazewski has been absent from the bank since Friday, and in response to many complaints on the part of neighborhood Poles, who had been forwarding money to Europe through him, and who allege that the money never arrived, he promised to meet them at the bank yesterday afternoon and straighten all accounts. Frank Kowalsky, a depositor, made information before Alderman J. J. Kirby yesterday, charging Pomoazewski with embezzlement.

Father Pomoazewski, rector of the St. Stanislaus' Roman Catholic church, Twenty-first street near Penn avenue, who is a brother of the missing bank president, said last evening: "I am very sorry this suspicion has come over my brother. I believe he is in the city for he telephoned yesterday morning that he would be in the bank at noon. I do not know where he lives. I chided him several days ago because of reports I had heard that things were not going as they should at the bank, and he left his former home to take quarters. I know not where. He is a mere boy, only 23 years of age, and was formerly associated in business with M. J. Novack. I have not the slightest idea where he is, but trust he will appear in the morning."

Last night Kowalsky made information before Alderman Kirby including Novack in the charge of embezzlement against Pomoazewski. Novack was arrested, but released on a bond of $1,000.

TO SCREEN MOSQUITOES OUT OF THE CANAL ZONE

Gen. Davis Asks for 100,000 Yards of Wire Gauze for This Purpose.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Gen. Davis, governor general of the Panama canal strip, has advised the Panama canal commission that he wants 100,000 yards of wire gauze to prevent mosquito invasion of the zone. Gen. Davis says that this will perhaps be the largest order for mosquito netting ever given.

He recommends the use of steel wire screens not coarser than 17 meshes to the square inch, galvanized. Admiral Walker suggests that copper and brass wire also might be utilized. For the hospitals, 20,000 yards will be needed, while for screening the houses along the canal zone 75,000 yards will be required. Two thousand yards are to be used to protect the De Lesseps houses at Cristobal.

SENSATIONAL ACT OF A M'KEESPORT MAN

Contractor Klinchak Shot Himself, Fired at His Wife and Then Disappeared.

George Klinchak, aged 45, a contractor living in Evans avenue, McKeesport, shot himself in the left breast at his home, at 6 o'clock last evening, and with blood flowing from the wound ran downstairs and fired another bullet at his wife. The bullet missed her.

Klinchak then ran out of the house, dashed into the suburbs of McKeesport, and has not been seen since, although several policemen and citizens have been searching the entire neighborhood since the time of his escape.

Klinchak has had a number of business reverses of late and it is believed that his mind was unbalanced. He had been summoned before Alderman Peter Loescos for a hearing in a suit brought against him by one of his employes for wages.

Winner of Mellor's Prize Piano

Mrs. Mary G. Jerling, the Lucky Woman in the Mellor Contest for a $400 Krell-French Piano

MR. ALBERT JERLING.

MRS. JERLING.

Mellor's piano contest closed Friday at 12 o'clock noon. Thousands of letters were received, each enclosing a number. The lucky person was Mrs. Mary G. Jerling, wife of Albert Jerling, a motorman on the Butler street line of the Pittsburgh Railways Co.

Mrs. Jerling's original letter was as follows:

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 30, 1904.

C. C. Mellor Co.

Dear Sirs—Enclosed you will find the number of our organ—23,457, Burdette Organ Co., Erie, Pa.

Mrs. Mary G. Jerling,
6002½ Butler street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mrs. Jerling's number was within one of the original, which was 23,456.

July 15, 1904.

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we were present at the removal of the brass plate concealing the secret number on the Krell-French Piano, offered as a prize by the C. C. Mellor Company, Ltd. We saw on the under side of the top lid a brass plate 2x2¾ inches, which had been screwed on with eight screws, and the heads of these screws were soldered up so that they could not be tampered with. The brass plate, screws and varnish surrounding the plate showed no evidence whatever of any attempt having been made to remove or interfere with the plate in any way since it had been put over, and it certainly was a most secure means of concealment. In fact it was so secure that it was found necessary to damage the wood somewhat in order to remove the plate. We lifted the plate off ourselves and discovered the number to be 23,456, which had been stamped into the wood.

We congratulate the winner on obtaining so beautiful a piano.

C. C. Mellor Company, Ltd., 319-321 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburgh. July 16, 1904.

"Gentlemen—It is with great pleasure that I acknowledge to have received from you the Krell-French Piano, offered by you as a prize to anyone sending you the number of their Piano or Organ, which number would come nearest to a special number placed secretly on the Prize Piano. The number of my Burdette Organ, which I sent you in my letter dated June 30, is 23,457—the number of my Prize Piano is 23,456.

The Prize Piano is now in my parlor and is greatly admired by my many friends, who have come to see it, and who all congratulate me on my good luck.

My husband is a motorman, employed on the Butler Street line.

Thanking you again for this beautiful Piano, I am,

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Mary G. Jerling.

WHAT'S HAPPENING AT

ECONOMY CITY.

It takes the continual planting of new industries or the expansion of old ones to make a community grow and permit real estate investors to become rich or prosperous from their investments.

At Economy City a mile of the world's finest bridge and structural-iron works have been built, in addition to other industries that will soon break ground.

The bridge works in their partially completed condition, employ nearly 2,000 workmen. When entirely completed they will employ 7,000 to 10,000 workmen.

There won't be stores and houses enough to supply one-tenth of these men and their families by the time the additional force of men are needed.

That shows to builders and others what rents they would command by getting in and putting up buildings.

It shows to investors what money they would earn from inevitable increase of value on any Economy City real estate they may purchase.

For lot-prices, maps and illustrations apply to REAL ESTATE TRUST COMPANY of Pittsburgh, 311 Fourth Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., or to W. A. Avey, Economy, Pa.

CAMPAIGN WILL OPEN AUGUST 1

Chairman Cortelyou Is Framing Up Plans for Active Hostilities.

NEW YORK THE BATTLEGROUND

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 18.

Soon after August 1 the active work of the campaign will be in augurated by the Republican national committee and there will be no cessation of hostilities until the voting booths are closed on November 8. Details of the plans that National Chairman George B. Cortelyou has in mind are not available at this time. Mr. Cortelyou has the wisdom not to talk of his plans in advance in order that the enemy may have the benefit of such knowledge. But he is busy scheming and it is safe to predict that he will be able to keep the Democrats busy from first to last.

Mr. Cortelyou has returned to headquarters in this city and will remain here until he leaves for Oyster Bay to be present at the formal notification, on July 28, of President Roosevelt that he has been nominated to head the ticket. After that he will go to New York and open the eastern headquarters in the Metropolitan building, remaining there in personal charge for several weeks.

At the same time, Secretary Dover will go to Chicago and open the western headquarters in the Auditorium hotel. Who will be permanently in charge of these offices has not yet been determined. Before leaving for Oyster Bay Chairman Cortelyou will announce the executive committee that is to have direct charge of the campaign work. Some of the members of this committee will be attached to the Chicago offices and some will be on duty in New York. The names of those who will have charge of the speakers' bureau and other important branches of the work will also be announced in a few days. L. A. Coolidge has been selected to take charge of the press bureau.

While the activity of the national committee will not be confined to any locality but will be general all over the country, yet it is evident that special attention is to be paid to New York, Connecticut and New Jersey. "Uncle Joe" Cannon is expected to look after Illinois and it is believed that he will be quite capable of handling the situation there. Senator Scott will be looked to to keep West Virginia in the Republican column and if he needs assistance, he will get it.

But it is generally understood that New York is to be the battle ground and if the Democrats really think they will carry that state for Parker, they will be given a run for their money. It is to superintend the work in the Empire state as well as in New Jersey and Connecticut, that Chairman Cortelyou intends to remain in New York most of the time. Incidentally he will be in the financial center, where a large part of the sinews of war come from. And as for this feature, he has nothing to worry about, as it is reliably reported that he has assurances of plenty of contributions to meet the expenses of the campaign.

SIX DAYS ADRIFT AT SEA IN OPEN BOATS

Survivors of the Norge Relate Experiences of Hardship and Hunger.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 18.—Another chapter was added to the story of the sinking of the Scandinavian line steamship Norge on June 28, causing the death of 600 persons, when three survivors, brought to this port by the White Star liner Cedric, told of their experiences. For six days they, with others, were adrift in an open boat and were nearly crazed with hunger when picked up.

August Tomberg, Carl Johansen and William Poulsen are the three men. Tomberg was on the lower deck talking to a sailor when the Norge struck. As the water began rushing into the boat Tomberg heard the cry, "Man the lifeboats. The ship is sinking." There was a rush in the steerage, and Tomberg was thrown to the deck and stunned. He recovered in time to help a little girl into the first lifeboat launched, which was immediately crushed against the side of the steamship.

As the second boat was launched a big wave carried him into the sea, struggling among many others. Tomberg fought his way into open water. Third Mate Berge picked up Tomberg and later Poulsen and Johansen. Others were picked up, making a total of 17. With two in the lifeboat started to St. Kilda, 150 miles away. About midnight on June 30 the boats were parted by a gale.

So limited was the supply of food and water, which consisted of ship biscuits and water that the 17 suffered greatly before they were picked up by a fishing vessel and taken to Aberdeen.

ORDERS BEAVERS REMOVED.

Court Decides That Ex-Postoffice Official Be Tried at Washington.

NEW YORK, July 18.—(Special.)—United States Commissioner Morle decided today, after a hearing on a warrant calling for the removal of George W. Beavers to Washington for trial, that probable cause existed for the ex-postoffice official's transfer from Brooklyn's. This ruling was in accord with the previous ruling made under similar circumstances by United States Commissioner Benedict, also of Brooklyn.

Mr. Seabury, of counsel for Beavers, gave notice he would prepare a motion for dismissal before United States Judge Thomas C. T. Dyl, pending which Beavers will [illegible] here. Beer May Be Sold on Former Church Site

Beer that is not Pittsburgh beer, beer made by one of the largest breweries in the country, and that beer only, may be sold in a 10-story hotel on the Second Presbyterian church lot at Penn avenue and Seventh street. This is the interesting rumor that leaked out yesterday in connection with a deal pending for the site, and which may be closed in a few days. Pittsburgh brewing interests are not to be consulted in the deal. If the purchase is consummated it will be followed, so it is said, by the erection of a hotel to cost at least $500,000, which will be equipped with every modern device. That a hotel was likely to be built on the site has been rumored for some time. The property is now owned by Herbert DuPuy, who bought it from Jacob Goehring for $691,000. The deal now pending is for a considerably larger sum, it is said.

JOYOUS MASKERS LOSE MONEY BEFORE HAVING CHANCE TO DANCE

Miss Rebecca Harris of 4597 Forbes street, with her two sisters, started to a masquerade party last night, but lost their joint purse on the way. They left home with light hearts and intended typifying "Mirth," "Joy" and "Laughter." They wore the appropriate costumes, shielded from the vulgar gaze by long raincoats. But the loss of the purse changed the whole program.

They came down town about 9 o'clock on the front seat of a Monongahela division car, but when they rose to leave at the corner of Sixth and Liberty streets, Miss Harris noticed that her silver chatelaine purse, containing $40 was missing. They forgot all about the masquerade and called on a friend whom they knew in the Frick building. He advised them to report their loss to the bureau of detectives and supplied the necessary car fare back to Craig street. Detective George Cole heard their story and offered paternal advice, telling them to advertise their loss in the newspapers.

"I was to masquerade as 'Mirth,'" said Miss Harris gathering the folds of her cloak around her costume, "but now I'll go back as 'Grief.'" And with her sisters she boarded a car and returned home.

RUSSIANS LOSE THOUSAND MEN

RUSSIA ROUSES BRITISH LION

Cruiser Terrible Sails from Suez to Protect English Merchantmen.

GERMANY TOO, IS INCENSED

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, July 19.—The Daily Express this morning prints the following dispatch dated July 18 from its correspondent at Malta:

"The British Mediterranean fleet left here today for Alexandria. It is believed that the destination of the fleet may be connected with the presence of the Russian volunteer fleet steamers in the Red sea. The British cruiser Terrible is said to have sailed from Suez today for the purpose of looking after the interests of British merchantmen."

LONDON, July 18.—The Daily Mail's Aden correspondent says that the British steamers Woodcock and Dalmatia were held up by the Russians in the Red sea and detained for three hours.

The correspondent says the captain of the Russian volunteer fleet steamer, St. Petersburg, has notified the British residents at Aden to wire the British consuls at Suez and Port Said that he would seize any British steamers bound for the far east if the contents of their packages were not clearly shown on their manifests according to international law.

The Daily Mail's St. Petersburg correspondent says that two more steamers of the Russian volunteer fleet, now at Odessa, have received confidential orders to leave this week for the Red sea, and to seize British vessels which are alleged to be carrying contraband of war.

The Standard's Odessa correspondent, confirming the Daily Mail's dispatch from St. Petersburg, says:

"Two more steamers of the volunteer fleet left here July 18 for Sebastopol, whence, after coaling and arming, it is presumed they will proceed to the Red sea."

Germany Takes Firm Stand.

BERLIN, July 18.—The German government has taken a prompt and firm stand in regard to the seizure of the mails of the North German Lloyd steamer Prinz Heinrich by the Russian volunteer fleet steamer Smolensk, having asked for a disavowal of the Smolensk's action, and the return of the captured mail sacks. No answer has yet been received from Russia.

Diplomatic circles believe Russia will speedily disavow the seizure, since a refusal to do so will certainly raise the question of the status of the Smolensk. In determining her status, only two alternatives are permissible—she is a merchantman or a pirate—and Russia, having every reason to prevent Germany from pressing for a decision on this point, will, it is believed, gracefully disavow the rash act of the Smolensk.

England Takes a Hand.

LONDON, July 18.—Earl Percy, undersecretary for foreign affairs, in the house of commons today asked General Laurie, (Conservative and Unionist) to postpone until Thursday a question which he proposed to ask concerning the doings of the Russian volunteer fleet steamer St. Petersburg in the Red sea. Earl Percy said the question, which among other things asked if it was on conformity with international law for a vessel to be transformed on the high seas from a merchant ship to a warship, or whether a ship holding a commission as a warship should be commissioned as such in a port of the nation to which it belongs, was of the utmost importance, and was engaging the earnest attention of the government.

With reference to the seizure of the Peninsular and Oriental Company's steamer, Malacca (from Antwerp for Japan) in the Red sea by the Russian volunteer fleet steamer St. Petersburg, the owners say the only goods of a contraband nature on board, so far as they are aware, were consigned to the British naval dock at Hongkong.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The authorities here are viewing with equanimity the operations of the Russian privateers in the Red sea. It is said that there is very little chance of America becoming involved in this question because the American vessels passing through the Red sea and the Suez canal, excluding warships and Manila transports, have scarcely averaged one a year for several years past.

Fears no Complications.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 18.—Russia does not foresee international complications on account of the passage of the Russian volunteer fleet through the Dardanelles and their subsequent conversion into war cruisers. The framers of the treaty of Paris, in seeking to close the Black Sea to the ingress and egress of Russian warships, evidently did not expect the present contingency.

"The St. Petersburg and Smolensk did not pass the Dardanelles as warships, but as merchantmen," said an official of the foreign office today. "Under the treaty of Paris there is no question of the right of ships to go out as merchantmen. With their subsequent conversion into warships Turkey has nothing to do. The treaty is silent on that subject."

Another British Ship Stopped.

ADEN, ARABIA, July 18.—The British steamer Persia was forcibly detained for an hour in the Red sea by the Russian steamer Smolensk, which transferred to the Persia Dr. Rustein, a volunteer fleet lieutenant, who boarded the Japanese mails seized on the North German Lloyd steamer Prinz Heinrich, July 15. The Smolensk confiscated two bags of the Prinz Heinrich's mails destined for Nagasaki.

Saloons Get Worthless Checks.

The Lawrenceville district police were notified yesterday that a financier was operating in the district by passing worthless checks. George Wheeler, the bookkeeper at Willow and Forty-third streets, had cashed one check for $13 and Matt Mazoney, a saloonkeeper at 4207 Butler, accepted worthless paper for $87.50. The former check was signed Homer W. Gosser and the latter Homer W. George.

Plenty of Talent But No Choice.

The Duquesne borough school board has about 28 applicants, but is unable to decide upon the choice of an instructor in penmanship and drawing. The position will remain open until a special meeting next week. Telephones are to be installed in all the school buildings this summer.

Mad Dog Scare in Wilkinsburg.

An unlicensed skye terrier in Penn avenue, Wilkinsburg, went mad last evening and after attacking several children, none of whom were seriously hurt, seriously bit Charles Couch, a Wilkinsburg postman, of 1032 Rose avenue.

Gen. Kashtalinsky's column by bringing up from the general reserve three battalions to the heights surmounted by the temple. In order to maintain the positions we had already occupied it was necessary, owing to the enemy's pressure, to reinforce immediately with other reserves the troops in the fighting line, but these positions, owing to their situation, were untenable.

Russians Give Way.

"Gen. Keller found the strength of the enemy so great compared with ours that he decided not to continue the fight, and not to bring up either the special or the general reserves, especially in view of the fact that in case of his ultimately taking the offensive it would be necessary to attack without support of the field artillery.

"In consequence of this, Gen. Keller decided about 10:30 to withdrew his troops to the positions originally occupied in the Yanze pass. The troops retired slowly, step by step, and in perfect order, covered by the fire of a field battery which had been brought into action.

"Towards midday an offensive movement by the enemy in the direction of the right flank of the Yanze pass position developed, and at the same time a Japanese mountain battery was brought into position in the village of Tsoudiaputse, 3½ miles south of Ikhavuan. After 24 shots had been fired from the third battery of the Third brigade, which held the saddle to the south of Yanze pass, the Japanese battery was finally reduced to silence. The fight ceased at 3:33 p. m., and the troops returned to Ikhavuan. The Japanese advance was stopped above the valley of the Iantakhe river at a position occupied and maintained by us.

"In consequence of a sleepless night and the heat of the day our troops were greatly fatigued, having been over 15 hours on foot and fighting. Our losses have not yet been exactly ascertained, but Gen. Keller reports that they exceed 1,000.

"The gallant Twenty-fourth regiment suffered most. Gen. Keller especially mentions the activity, courage and coolness shown by its commanding officers. Col. Koschitz was severely wounded in the leg, but remained in the ranks until the end of the action."

LONDON, July 19.—The correspondent of the Times at Gen. Kuroki's headquarters says that the Japanese losses during the fighting at Motien pass on July 17 were trifling.

A Rout, Say Japanese.

TOKYO, July 18.—At 5 o'clock Sunday morning, a heavy fog veiling their movements, two divisions of Russians, commanded by Lieut.-Gen. Kallar, made an assault on the Japanese positions at Motien pass. Gen. Kuroki adds that the Russians assailed all the Japanese positions desperately. The Japanese repulsed the Russians and pursued them for a considerable distance, inflicting heavy losses.

The news caused great rejoicing here. It demonstrated that the Japanese are as effective in defense as in offense, and goes to prove Kuroki's assertion that it would take 500,000 Russians to drive Japan out of Manchuria.

SHAN-HAI-KWAN, July 18.—(Special Cable.)—News reaches here today by way of Sin-Min-Tun that the Russian army under Gen. Keller, which has been operating against Kuroki's column to the southeast of the Liao-Yang, has been defeated with heavy loss, and that the way is now practically open for Kuroki to cut the railroad between Hai-Cheng and Liao-Yang, get in contact with Oku's column, which is moving up from the south, west of the railroad, thus enclosing all that portion of the Russian army about Hai-Cheng and Taschi-Kiao.

The Russians are said to have lost heavily. The shattered columns fell back on the defenses about Liao-Yang, badly demoralized. Some of the regiments engaged are said to have been recently arrived Europeans, of whom much was expected. They did no better against the Japanese than the Siberians.

Steamer May Have Struck Mine.

CHEFOO, July 18.—The steamer Hipsang, belonging to the Hindoo-China Navigation Company, is 48 hours overdue from Nulehwang and is reported to have struck a mine.

A BACK LICK

Settled the Case With Her.

Many great discoveries have been made by accident and things better than gold mines have been found in this way, for example, when even the accidental discovery that coffee is the real cause of one's sickness proves of most tremendous value, because it locates the cause and the person has then a chance to get well.

"For over 25 years," says a Missouri woman, "I suffered untold agonies in my stomach and even the best physicians disagreed as to the cause without giving me any permanent help, different ones saying it was gastritis, indigestion, neuralgia, etc., so I dragged along from year to year, always half sick, until finally I gave up all hopes of ever being well again.

When taking dinner with a friend one day she said she had a new drink which turned out to be Postum and I liked it so well I told her I thought I would stop coffee for a while and use it, which I did.

"So for three months we had Postum in place of coffee without ever having one of my old spells but was always healthy and vigorous instead.

"Husband kept saying he was convinced it was coffee that caused those spells, but even then I wouldn't believe it until one day we got out of Postum and as we lived two miles from town I thought to use the coffee we had in the house.

"The results of a week's use of coffee again was that I had another terrible spell of agony and distress proving that it was the coffee and nothing else. That settled it and I said goodby to coffee forever and since then Postum alone has been our hot meal-time drink.

"My friends all say I am looking worlds better and my complexion is much improved. All the other members of our family have been benefited, too, by Postum in place of the old drink, coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ten days' trial of Postum in place of coffee or tea is the wise thing for every coffee drinker. Such a trial tells the exact truth often where coffee is not suspected.

MAINE CANNOT BE RAISED BY CUBA

Congress Alone Has Power to Act With Reference to the Battleship.

THE CONTRACTOR IS NOTIFIED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 18.

Acting Secretary of the Navy Darling today informed by letter R. H. F. Sewell of New Orleans, a contractor, who made arrangements with the Cuban government to remove the wreck of the Maine, that the navy department has no authority either to abandon the vessel or to permit its removal. He states that congress alone can dispose of the public property of the United States and that the navy department does not contemplate any work upon the wreck.

This is an approval from the head of the department of the position heretofore taken by Capt. Diehl, the judge advocate-general, and ends, at least for the time being, all controversy with regard to "raising" the wreck. It is understood here that the Cuban government will conform to the wishes of this government in the matter.

It is now altogether likely, in view of the many attempts made to obtain the wreck of the Maine and to remove it, that congress will take some action at its next session finally disposing of the question.

Mr. Darling's letter to R. H. F. Sewell is as follows:

Referring to your letter of July 1, stating that you have a contract with the Cuban government to float the wreck of battleship Maine in the harbor of Havana, and requesting information as to whether the United States government has any claims upon the wreck, you are informed that on July 7, 1902, the department stated its position respecting the wreck of the Maine in the following language:

"This department is not at present engaged in and does not contemplate undertaking any work upon the wreck of the Maine. It is not considered, however, that the navy department can, with propriety, in such case, give a letter or other paper which would be in the nature of credentials to be presented to the Cuban government, nor would it understand that any executive department of the government has the power on behalf of the United States to abandon the wreck of a public vessel. The disposition of the public property of the United States rests with congress and this department would not undertake to give an acquittance or relinquishment of any rights of the United States in the wreck of the Maine for the obvious reason that congress might, thereafter at any time, by enactment, direct that a different disposition thereof be made."

CANDIDATE BOLTS.

Butler County Democrats Must Select Another Legislative Aspirant.

BUTLER, PA., July 18.—(Special.)—C. J. D. Strechecker of Zelienople has withdrawn as one of the Democratic candidates for the state legislature, and County Chairman A. C. Troutman has notified Chairman John Humphrey of the committee on vacancies to call a meeting for the purpose of naming a substitute for Strechecker, who is supposed to be a Bryan Democrat.

It is alleged that the cause of his withdrawal is his dissatisfaction with the recent national convention.

This organization was formed in 1886, being one of the first of its kind. POLITICAL ROW ENDS IN DEATH

Blacksmith Faith Charged With Killing Carpenter McSherry at New Kensington, Pa.

TAKEN TO GREENSBURG JAIL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW KENSINGTON, PA., July 18.—R. E. Faith, a blacksmith, was taken to jail at Greensburg this afternoon charged with killing Robert McSherry, who died last night from injuries received Saturday in a fight that started in a political discussion in a Third avenue saloon. McSheery being an ardent Democrat and Faith a Republican, they quarreled and McSherry is said to have struck Faith several times. The men were separated and ejected from the saloon. They met again at the street fair and carnival of the Good Will Hose Company, when Faith struck McSherry with his fist over the left eye. McSherry staggered and fell to the pavement, striking on his head. Faith attempted to raise him and later aided in carrying him to the office of a physician.

McSherry recovered enough to appear at the office of Burgess M. H. Mainwaring, who had caused the arrest of Faith on a charge of disorderly conduct. Faith was fined and discharged as McSherry was sent to his home in a carriage. Shortly afterward he became unconscious and remained in that condition until he died. An autopsy was held and it was discovered that the skull had been fractured and that blood clots had formed on the brain. When it was learned how serious McSherry's injuries were the latter's son had Faith re-arrested on a charge of felonious assault. He was locked up and this morning after the coroner's jury had returned a verdict placing the responsibility of McSherry's death upon him, Faith was sent to jail to await trial.

McSherry was aged 58 and came here from Edenton six years ago. He had been employed as a carpenter. He took an active interest in borough politics, and had several times been a candidate on the Democratic ticket. He leaves a wife and nine children. Faith was a former resident of Kittanning and came here three years ago. He had always been regarded as peaceful and hard working. McSherry was the first man with whom he became acquainted here and he feels keenly the tragedy.

Will Hold a Reunion.

GREENVILLE, PA., July 18.—(Special.)—The action of the Lake presbytery of the United Presbyterian church, at Jamestown, indicates that the big United Presbyterian reunion will be held at Conneaut Lake next year, in spite of the fact that the various presbyteries earlier in the season voted to abandon the outing.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LATROBE, PA., July 18.—Joseph Craig of Deweyville, a mining village near New Alexandria, was drowned last evening in the big reservoir which supplies the water for the town. Accompanied by friends, Craig went swimming in the reservoir, and he was attacked by cramps. Supt. King recovered the body. Craig was aged 28 and is survived by a widow and six children.

Word came today that Frank Palmer of New Latrobe was drowned yesterday afternoon in the Susquehanna river while swimming.

ITALIAN SLASHES WIFE.

American Spouse of Foreigner May Die of Wounds at New Castle, Pa.

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 18.—(Special.)—Louis Tanni, an Italian, probably fatally cut his American wife this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lizzie Mariarano, where the two have been staying since they came here from Pittsburgh. The husband failed to secure work here and this caused frequent quarrels.

This morning Mrs. Tanni threatened to go to her mother's home in Wheeling. He left in anger, but returned after dinner. After words he drew a razor and slashed her three times along the back, once along the right shoulder and once on the right thigh. Tanni ran through the rear door and escaped. He is 25 years of age. The injured woman is in the hospital.

OSTERLING'S MANIFESTO GOES IN FORCE TODAY

Erection of Luzerne County, Pa., Courthouse to Be Taken from Contractor.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., July 18.—Tomorrow morning the contract for building the new $1,000,000 court house will be taken out of the hands of Contractor Wilson J. Smith of this city by the county commissioners and they will themselves proceed with the work.

Smith suspended work three months ago, owing to a dispute about the reduction of his bills for extra work by Architect F. J. Osterling of Pittsburgh. The commissioners and Osterling on Thursday gave Smith until tonight to start work. He did not commence. They will now proceed with the work, and if its cost is more than Smith's bid the bondsmen will be held responsible.

The citizens view with relief this new phase in the court house muddle, there having been constant bickering and legal fighting for the past 10 years.

Twelve Saloons Wiped Out.

ALLIANCE, O., July 18.—(Special.)—The election held here under the Brannock law today in the Third and Fourth wards and precinct A of the First ward, resulted in a victory for the "drys" by 551 majority. Twelve saloons are taken out of town by the election. The saloon element has presented a petition for an election in their territory so that the "drys" cannot include this with other "dry" territory.

SHIPPERS WIN FIGHT.

Wring Concession from Railroads in Regard to Uniform Bill of Lading.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Shippers, according to the Record-Herald, have won a victory over the railroads in relation to the uniform bill of lading. While it has not yet been generally promulgated, officers of the eastern roads have agreed to waive the signature feature of the new bill, which was the bone of contention between the transportation companies and shippers.

This agreement ends what promised to be a long and fierce struggle between the shippers and railroads over the new bill of lading that is to become effective September 1. The railroad companies desired to establish a bill of lading that would have some resemblance to a contract binding the shipper to turn his traffic over to the railroad and abide by rates. The effect was to guarantee the road against losses.

Several conferences have been held in Chicago between shippers and railroad officers, and the meetings ended without any agreement. The shippers then threatened to carry the fight before the interstate commerce commission.

Three Young Wanderers Found.

Three boys were picked up yesterday afternoon by a policeman at Main and Wabash streets, West End. At the police station they said they were Roy Stell, 11 years; Raymond Stell, 9 years and Clarence Stell, 6 years. Their story was not very clear and they could not tell how they had gotten from Port Perry. The story will be investigated.

LUDINGTON, MICH., July 18.—George, the 15-year-old son of Attorney George Dawson of Chicago, was drowned in Bass lake this afternoon while sailing in a frail craft of his own construction. The body was recovered.

GREENVILLE, PA., TO HAVE A NEW GLASS PLANT

Company Capitalized at $1,000,000, to Make Articles Under German Patents.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENVILLE, PA., July 18.—A company, capitalized at $1,000,000, will erect a plant here for the manufacture of glass sanitary appliances, including bath tubs, tanks, acid vats, beer kegs and burial caskets, by a process invented by Herr Seivert of Dresden, Germany. The American rights have been secured by the company, in which the Brodhead Contracting Company holds controlling stock. The plant will probably be located on the Henlein farm, which contains an almost inexhaustible supply of glass-making sand. Herr Selvert, who owns several large factories in Germany, will hold a large interest in the Greenville plant. Fifteen patents have been granted in the United States and others are pending.

It is expected that the glass sanitary articles will revolutionize the demand for that class of goods, as they can be made at less cost than the cheapest enamel ware. Glass beer kegs are said to be superior to the wooden kegs. The plant will employ 200 men at the start. The main building will cost $125,000, and it is estimated that it will cost $300,000 to equip the plant.

WOMAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

School Teacher Twice Tries to Kill Herself in Oil City, Pa.

OIL CITY, PA., July 18.—(Special.)—Mrs. Lizzie Kahle, aged 30, of Slippery Rock, made two unsuccessful attempts to commit suicide today, first by swallowing chloroform and then trying to hurl herself from a second-story window of the Oil City hospital, where she is confined. Domestic troubles are said to have unbalanced her mind. The Butler county authorities have been notified and have arranged to take her to the State hospital at North Warren tomorrow. She conducted a private school here. Mrs. Kahle's first attempt at self-destruction was made in the office of a doctor. During the absence of a physician from the room she opened a medicine case and drank the drug. When he returned he found her on the floor in agony. It is said she was deserted by her husband two years ago.

Heirs Will Contest Will.

KITTANNING, July 18.—(Special.)—The will of Mrs. Margaret R. Nulton is being contested. She was 89 years old, and until a few months prior to her death lived alone. Then she went to the home of her only daughter, Mrs. W. J. Wright. A great portion of her estate was found to be willed to this daughter and her children. The other heirs claim undue influence was brought to bear. G. W. Doverspike, cashier in the Farmers' bank, and Judge Nesbit, will ask the court to release him. Before death her husband had served as associate judge and county treasurer.

Clearing Up Flood Wreckage.

SCOTTDALE, PA., July 18.—(Special.)—The work of clearing up the wreckage caused by the breaking of the reservoir Saturday night was begun this morning. Hundreds of men will be employed for weeks replacing the bridges and repairing the houses, barns and fences damaged by the flood, and a large force will be put to work on the reservoir as soon as possible. There is no immediate fear of a water famine. The total damage will be close to $100,000.

PACKERS HAVE STARTED WAR

Local Companies Will Fight for Business of Western Firms.

RECORD DAY IN MARKET

Pittsburgh meat packers have started a fight for the business of this district. The western strike furnished the opportunity and packing companies in the west may lose their fat Pittsburgh patronage.

The local concerns now hold the whip hand. The western men cannot move. Butchers have held that the provision companies here cannot furnish sufficient supply; the packers say they can do so now and the retailer is waiting developments. The Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City houses have already received a hard blow. The live stock market here yesterday tells the story. The receipts of cattle at Herrs Island yards were 4,000 head; the receipts of sheep were 7,000 head and the hog receipts were 7,300 head. Not before in the history of the Island were the shipments so heavy on cattle, and the receipts of hogs and sheep exceeded all records for this season of the year.

All Bought Heavily.

Stock men from all over the country shipped their supply here, claiming they had become disgusted at the way things have been going on in the western markets. Nearly three-fourths of the arrivals will be consumed in the Pittsburgh territory. It will be handled by the local packers and that is how they will demonstrate what they are capable of doing. They all bought heavily; even independent butchers, owning small slaughter houses, joined hands in the cause and purchased all they could.

It is feared that eastern buyers would be on hand yesterday and that a fair share of the stock consigned to Pittsburgh would be secured for the New York market. Private advices were received early that, owing to danger of another packing house strike at the Jersey City houses nothing should be consigned to that market from Pittsburgh. The news was received with demonstrations of joy. The local buyers then had the big supply nearly all to themselves. The market was steady so far as prices went, but good grades of cattle averaged about 10 cents higher than the week before.

Will Fight Fiercely.

The Pittsburgh Provision Packing Company purchased an unusually big supply. This concern like others has set about to see as much new business as it can and the managers claim that they will not only demonstrate their ability, but give the local butchers all the meat they want. They say they have a good start and that from this time on they will give their western competitors a hard battle. There were only two cars of fresh western meat in Pittsburgh yesterday. Butchers who have been patronizing these houses have very little meat on hand; in fact there supply of fresh meat was smaller in the Diamond market yesterday than it has been in the last 30 years.

Demand for fresh meat has fallen off as a result of the high retail prices and a number of the butchers say that unless business picks up soon they will not need very much stock for awhile. The local situation will soon be relieved. It is however, only a question of time, they say, before meat will mean lower retail prices, but may lead to that eventually. Butchers say they cannot afford to sell below the prices announced Saturday unless they can buy at lower figures. People are still eating poultry, eggs and dried meats and the vegetable market yesterday gave signs of better demand all around. It was stated that it may be the intention of local packers to cut wholesale prices before long and thereby furnish their competitors more trouble than ever.

Appeal Is Turned Down.

The western houses foresaw sometime ago how the live stock market here is fast becoming a dangerous rival. Since the strike they have realized what they feared. Consequently they appealed to several local packers to butcher and to make sales for them. It was reported on good authority yesterday that the Armour company was turned down flatly by a local packer, who replied, "This is where we get even. You have had no sympathy with us; we have none for you. Besides we have not the capacity to do business for anyone but ourselves now."

The Herr's Island market has been booming all through the western trouble and the packers have a fight on their hands. Yow have to fight if you want to get even. Yow

The Pirates were outplayed by the Giants yesterday and that team carried off the second game of the series, 4 to 1. It was a treading afternoon with a rainfall an hour before game time, but 4,750 lovers of the sport took a chance and while they watched a good ball game, it was one in which the home team was in a class by itself.

The pitchers were Sam Leever for the Pirates and "Dummy" Taylor for the visitors. Leever was there with his old-time speed and curves and pitched a good game, but in two innings, the second and sixth, the visitors managed to bunch their few hits, and this brought them the runs that won Taylor, on the other hand, was very effective and it was only when the Pirate batters guessing all the time. On one or two occasions he was in a tight pinch, where a hit would have done a lot of damage, but Taylor was master of the situation and the necessary hit was not forthcoming, both of which was exasperating to the faithful in the stands.

The Pirates were again on the field minus their leader, who is confined to his bed and is likely to be there for the rest of the week, if not for a longer time. It was stated by the club officials that the attending physicians had reported Clarke as some better and the danger of fever had passed, but still in bad shape. His absence was noted in more ways than one and there was a lack of gameness on the part of the players which was quite noticeable. The team, under the leadership of Tommy Leach, instead of Wagner, who had been relieved of the captaincy in the morning at his own request, put up a fair article of ball considering its work. Leach will make a capable field leader for the team and better work can be expected as soon as he and the other players become accustomed to the change.

That the spectators had not forgotten the poor work of Umpire Moran in Saturday's game was shown when that official made his first appearance on the field. He was hooted and jeered from the time he left the players' bench to the plate and was invited to take his leave and allow O'Day to officiate alone. This dislike for the umpire was carried through the game and every decision was greeted with hisses or hoots. Moran was back of the bat as the judge of balls and strikes, and his work during the early part of the game was good, but finally he, too, lost his nerve and made some serious blunders, which brought forth the usual protests from both the players and spectators.

That the Giants have the luck with them was shown when the first ball pitched by Leever was accepted after two men were out. In the second inning, after Dahlen had gone out from Wagner to Bransfield and Gilbert had flied to Bowerman, Leever hit safely and the ball to left for two bases and scored on a single to right by Taylor. The latter moved to second on the attempt to get Dahlen at the plate and he scored on Bresnahan made an infield single in the sixth. Devlin, the first batter, was out on strikes and Mertaugh singled, but was forced at second by Merkle. Dahlen beat out a bunt and Gilbert hit the first ball pitched to right for three bases, scoring both Merkle and Dahlen.

The Pirates had lots of chances for runs but a clever pitching of Taylor kept the hits that would bring in the runs from being made. In the sixth inning, for instance, the bases were full with two out and Bransfield at bat, but the best he could do was a weak grounder to Taylor and the side was retired at first. Tommy Leach scored the home team's only run in the eighth when he reached first on Dahlen's will throw and got around on a pyout and an out at first.

DAWSON, PA., July 18.—(Special.)—Jack Morefee's Johnstown professionals took a fall out of the Uniontown Elks this afternoon, 5 to 3. Five Pittsburgh players turned out expecting to see Menefee, who is manager of Dawson, in the game. He, however, is laid up with an injured foot. NEW YORK PLAYERS HAD TILT WITH GATEKEEPER

Wanted to Sneak Some Boys Into the Park and Lively Scene Followed.

There was a lively scene over at Exposition park before the start of yesterday's game in which a few of the members of the New York team and Gate Keeper McAteer were the participants. The Giants are traveling in style this year and the players go to the park in open carriages instead of the time-honored 'bus used by the other teams.

Yesterday one carriage containing four of the New York players was halted at the gate by McAteer, who refused admission until a half dozen boys who were hanging on were left outside. The players at once took sides with the boys and insisted that they be admitted, which was refused, and a lively tilt followed, in which one of the players used vile language, which so enraged the gatekeeper that he went after the player, but the others interfered and stopped a probable fight. The carriage was allowed to enter the grounds, but the boys were missing.

President Dreyfuss stated last night that in case Manager Clarke is laid up for any length of time he will at once proceed to purchase an outfielder to take Clarke's place until he gets well. The club owner says he has a star outfielder in view and will purchase him just as soon as the physicians decide the probable length of Clarke's illness.

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, ONT., July 18.—The Canadian tennis tournament was finished here today with the winning of the men's singles championship by Beals Wright of Boston, over L. H. Waidner of Chicago. As this was Wright's third win the challenge cup becomes his permanent property. Summaries:

AFTER BEST FIGHTERS.

Frankie Neil Will Match With McGovern or Love.

NEW YORK, July 18.—(Special.)—Frankie Neil, the bantam-weight champion of the world, who came into town Saturday night from his tribunals in Chicago, is after the biggest fish in the pond now. The little champion was seen while strolling down Broadway with his father and was asked if Billy Harris, his manager, was around.

"I'm here to meet McGovern," said Neil, as he twirled his cane. "That is, Hughey McGovern, and we'll see Sam Harris about the arrangements tomorrow. If there is any title in the go, why I will look around for the real best man among the bantams, maybe Tommy Love. I hear he is a good card out here."

MAY DROP WHEELING.

Central League to Be Made Into Six Club Circuit.

TERRE HAUTE, IND., July 18.—(Special.)—It is probable that the Central league at a special meeting here tomorrow will drop Wheeling and finish the season as a six club league, now that Haldeman has paid off his Peoria team and quit the game. This will be done because the other clubs in the league will vote against the league carrying Peoria through the season. Wheeling is a good town for game receipts, but the long jumps make it a city to be dropped to save the life of a league. Grand Rapids is bidding for some of the Peoria players tonight.

WILL WAIT FOR BRITT.

Young Corbett Will Not Do Any Fighting Before Next December.

NEW YORK, July 18.—"Young Corbett" has given up the idea of fighting before the middle of December, when he hopes to have another go with "Jimmy" Britt before one of the California clubs. He is now in Atlantic City and will then go to Saratoga to take the waters and at the same time look over the odds in the betting ring.

Corbett says he could handily jump at a match with "Terry" McGovern if some Philadelphia club would make him a good offer, but he added that he thought "Terry" would not look with favor on another meeting with him.

YORK, PA., July 18.—Alex Pearson, Altoona's big right-hander, this afternoon won an exciting 11 inning argument from Jackson, 4 to 3. The Penn Park batters found Pearson for eight hits, but could not land on his delivery at times when they could have chased over the home plate. Pearson was given good support. WORKMEN BUSY IN THE THEATERS

Harry Davis' Stock Company May Appear at the Alvin Next Season.

BIG IMPROVEMENTS MADE

The theater lobby in midsummer is not an inviting place. It is filled with paint and varnish, and the paperhanger, the carpet man, the fresco artist and the scrub woman fight for the right of way. In all the Pittsburgh theaters the same scene is presented. The theaters are not "dark" literally. There is an abundance of light and the workmen are busy embellishing the houses in order that everything shall be in ship-shape for opening in the early fall.

Business in theater building centers in the magnificent house Hyde & Behman will open in Duquesne way in September. Eighty skilled men are at work and the new theater will soon be ready for the decorators. The contractors are on schedule time with their task and there is evidence that there will be no unnecessary rush at the eleventh hour. When it is finished it will be the best fireproofed theater in the country. There is not a single piece of woodwork exposed. A massive fire wall, a steel-grooved fire curtain and a model arrangement of windows in the skylight of the stage will practically make the playhouse immune from any possible danger from fire.

George and Christopher Miller, two Chicago artists, who did much of the decorative work in the Nixon theater and the new Wabash railway station, are at work preparing the plaster casts which will adorn the auditorium and the facades of the 24 boxes, which will jut out from the high-arched walls of the auditorium. The structural work for the Sixth street entrance is well under way and the mosaic floors and marble wainscoting will be put in within the next fortnight.

The interior of the Bijou is being completely overhauled and a $3,000 patent sprinkler system has been installed. Linoleum floor coverings are being laid and the house will be ready to open on July 30 with a minstrel show. This will break all records for early openings of the popular theatrical season in Pittsburgh. The Duquesne, which will be opened in September, also under the management of B. M. Gulick & Co., likewise will be completely overhauled.

It is understood on good authority that Harry Davis' stock company, which has been holding forth at the Grand, will be transferred to the Alvin, under the deal made between Mr. Davis and B. F. Keith, the new owner of the Alvin. Keith had announced elaborate improvements for the Alvin, which he had expected to open as a high-class vaudeville house, but there is no material evidence of this and little work is being done. Yesterday painters began work painting the Alvin's fire escapes.

Mr. Davis has not divulged his plans. The Grand is being redecorated, but little attention is being paid to the Avenue. Among theatrical men the Keith-Davis deal is said to be fully matured and that vaudeville will be run at the Grand while the stock company will have full sway at the Alvin. This, it is considered by many will be a shrewd move all the way round, and with a strong stock company, a better class of audiences can be drawn to the Alvin than would be secured for the Grand.

The interior of the Academy is being rebuilt and a fire wall is being added. Improvements at the Empire are being confined to freshening up the decorations. No improvements were found necessary at the Nixon.

WONDERFUL ACTS BY TRAINED ANIMALS

Gentry Bros.' Show Ahead of Anything in That Line Ever Seen Here.

It's up to the parents to please the children at all times, if possible. And the juvenile population of Pittsburgh is not likely to be suited this week unless they get a good long glimpse at Gentry Brothers' Trained Animal Show. Any doubt as to the willingness of the older children, with gray in their hair, to share the treat was dissipated last night by the enthusiastic reception which 1,500 people gave the show at its first regular performance at Friendship park in the East End.

For instruction and entertainment the Gentry Brothers' aggregation of highly trained animals is a revelation. Over 400 animals are being shown in Pittsburgh, the aggregate cost of which foots up $100,000. A small regiment of ponies which can stand the exacting work of a tailor's goose to difficult military movements with the precision of army veterans is in itself a rare sight. But the individual capers of these wonderful animals, including the feigned illness of a bearded pony and its recovery through the efforts of a monkey doctor, make the finest side-splitting. This monkey doctor, by the way, is one of the rarest specimens in monkeydom and his long training before public audiences has made him the marvel of all spectators. He understands 379 words of the English language and takes a keen delight in being the leader in the most difficult "stunts." Dogs that jump the rope, dogs that waltz in perfect time with music, dogs that make the most sober parents scream with laughter as they fondle their baby puppy, dogs that can play at leap frog, lame dogs, sick dogs, disgusted dogs and curly little canines of every description, further striking features of the show. Included in their performances are many feats never attempted in this city before.

Two features of the entertainment are worthy of special mention, the fire department drill and the "loop the loop" performance. In the former the shrewd monkey, Jack, displays a marvelous activity in handling fire apparatus while a miniature building is going up in smoke. His comrades, several smaller monkeys, tear around the arena in a hose cart with an air of coolness as if a paid department could command. The same famous Jack is called upon to perform the perilous "loop the loop" act in the rather hair-raising period of three seconds. A parachute leap is another drawing card in the theater performance. The entire performance is clean in its tone and exhibits a series of really wonderful feats.

RAILROADS ARE DAMAGED.

Two Freight Wrecks Smash Engines, Cars and Tracks Causing Much Delay.

In a rear-end collision between a freight train and a coal train near Sylvan, on the Allegheny Valley division of the Pennsylvania railroad, last evening, two engines were wrecked, three coal cars demolished and the track torn up for 50 feet. A shifter was at the rear of the coal train and the first engine of a double-header coming behind crashed into it. The trainmen saved themselves by jumping.

A freight wreck yesterday morning on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, in Esplen, caused the road to be tied up for three hours. The air hose of one of the cars of a long freight train broke, causing the air brakes to set instantly, which upset 10 cars over three lines of tracks.

MOUNTAINS OF BAGGAGE.

They Are Piled Up Awaiting End of the Transfer Drivers' Strike.

NEW YORK, July 18.—As a result of the strike of drivers of the New York Transfer Company the baggage rooms of the Pennsylvania, Erie, Jersey Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Lehigh Valley and Ontario & Western railroads are crowded with trunks. The company made no attempt to send out wagons today.

Up to the present none of the other transfer companies has been affected, but Walking Delegate Thomas Brandon of the Railroad Express Drivers' union, No. 645, said tonight that in all probability the strike would extend to the other companies in a day or two if their demands for increased pay were not granted by the New York Transfer Company. The strikers held a meeting tonight and appointed a committee to confer with the transfer company officials concerning a possible settlement of the strike.

WOMEN BATTLE WITH LINEMEN

Stand in Holes to Prevent Telephone Company from Raising a Pole in Sheraden.

MRS. MICHEL BADLY INJURED

Zephyr avenue residents in the borough of Sheraden yesterday tried to prevent the Bell Telephone Company from erecting a pole in that fashionable thoroughfare. As a result of the fight, the wife of Dr. M. E. Michel is dangerously ill, J. L. Shipler of Wilkinsburg, a lineman, is injured, and Chief of Police Chris Kohl and the company's workmen received a ducking.

The trouble started about 9 o'clock, when the telephone men appeared in front of the office of Dr. Michel and began digging a hole. Dr. and Mrs. Michel protested, but the workmen continued to dig. Stepping into the partly finished hole, Mrs. Michel sought to thwart the workmen. Determined not to be outgeneraled, the foreman ordered the men to start another hole about a foot away, but before this was finished the 6-year-old daughter of Mrs. Michel followed the example of her mother. The men then started a third hole, but a neighbor promptly occupied it. Seven holes were dug, but all contained Zephyr avenue women and children before the pole could be placed in any of them.

The telephone men, outnumbered, resorted to other tactics. They were instructed to go ahead and finish digging the original hole in spite of its obdurate occupant. While this was being done, Mrs. Michel was struck in the side with a crowbar, it is alleged, by J. L. Shipler, and she fainted at the edge of the hole. Dr. Michel struck Shipler. Shipler, with blood flowing from his mouth, returned the blow. The two clinched and while they fought one of the women turned the lawn hose on the other telephone men. Chief of Police Kohl ordered the residents of the street to permit the men to proceed with their work, and he also received a thorough drenching.

Chief Kohl separated Dr. Michel and Shipler and placed them under arrest. Justice Bishop dismissed the charges against the two last night, but it was announced by Dr. Michel last night that he would not allow the case to rest there. His wife is under the care of two physicians. She is injured internally, and in a nervous state as a result of the shock. The telephone men say the blow was accidental, while those on the other side of the fight declare it was intentional. The pole now occupies the hole originally dug for it.

PERSONALS

Frank Buchanan, president of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, left last night for New York. He spent two days in Pittsburgh trying to adjust a dispute between the Housesmiths, a branch of his organization, and the elevator constructors. The housesmiths, sometimes known as the ornamental iron workers, claim the right to construct all ornamental work about elevators, while the elevator constructors are claiming that work. The dispute is a technical one, as the housesmiths have done the work for many years, but of recent years the elevator constructors have claimed the work. The dispute resulted in the elevator work in two buildings being delayed, the Wabash station and the Oliver building in Wood street. President Buchanan succeeded in inducing the men to return to work pending a decision by a board of arbitration, the men going to work yesterday morning. President Buchanan is deeply interested in the organization of a National Structural Trades Alliance. A meeting will be held August 10, in Indianapolis, for that purpose. All trades which have anything to do with buildings have been asked to send representatives. The object of the alliance is to settle all disputes between unions by conciliation or arbitration, instead of delaying work on account of the contention.

Charles E. Warner, general superintendent of the Allegheny County Light Company, has resigned, to take effect August 1, to accept the appointment of general manager of the San Juan Light & Transit Company, San Juan, Porto Rico. This company is controlled by the J. G. White company, the largest electrical construction and electrical promotion interests in the country. About one year ago Mr. Warner came from Boston, where he had been engaged in electrical construction work, to accept the position of general superintendent of the Allegheny County Light Company. Mr. Warner will be succeeded as general superintendent by R. S. Orr of Allegheny, who is advanced from the position of general contracting agent.

NOBLEMAN MEETS AMERICAN FIANCEE

Lord Bateman Greets Mrs. Knapp at Plymouth—She Refuses to Disclose Past.

AVOIDS ANNOYING FATHER

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, July 18.—Lord Bateman went to Plymouth to meet his fiancee, Mrs. Knapp, who arrived on the Kaiser Wilhelm at noon. When his lordship boarded the ship, Mrs. Knapp was standing at the top of the gangway wearing a becoming blue gown. She greeted his lordship quietly. The passengers watched the meeting interestedly. Lord Bateman is burly and handsome. On the train bound to London, Mrs. Knapp said to your correspondent: "I do not understand why any fuss should be made about my marrying Lord Bateman. There is nothing to tell about my first marriage or widowhood. The reporters did not find my father, James G. Graham, in San Francisco because he doesn't live there now. Where he lives doesn't matter, he won't be interviewed. The Knapp family, to which my husband belonged, lived mostly in Europe."

Asked where her first husband was buried, she replied: "In Europe. He inherited a fortune from his father, who inherited from his father. They were a quiet family and never engaged in any business, living but a little while in New York. I do not want to be worried, nor do I want my father to be worried, so I won't tell where he is. His health is not good and he is compelled to live in the mountains near New York. There is no mystery about me or my life. There is really nothing interesting to tell. I have nothing more to say."

London society knows nothing about Mrs. Knapp's family history. Lord Bateman and his family apparently know no more than Mrs. Knapp has told them. There was some confusion of identity between Lord Bateman's fiancee and a woman of the same name, who recently sought divorce in New York. The confusion was quickly explained, whereupon a special marriage license was issued. Lady Alice Leslie, Mrs. Knapp's friend, who secured her presentation at court after the usual inquiries by the American embassy, would not be interviewed as to the approaching marriage.

BRIDE OF FOUR WEEKS TAKES DOSE OF POISON

Mrs. Oehmicheer of Sussex Flats, Oakland, Had Threatened to Kill Herself.

Mrs. Octavie Oehmichen, aged 21, the bride of four weeks of Louis B. Oehmichen of the Sussex flats, 3206 Forbes street, near Craft avenue, while in a fit of temporary insanity yesterday took carbolic acid.

She had been despondent for several weeks on account of ill health and had several times in her moods said that she would kill herself, but while precautions were taken it was not believed that her melancholia had reached such an acute stage.

Some time yesterday forenoon in her flat she managed to get into a room by herself and her moans were heard. Her husband was hurriedly summoned, reaching home by noon to find his young wife with her mouth burned by carbolic acid. She was unconscious then and died shortly afterward. The husband was prostrated and friends took care of the flat. The interment has been fixed for 10 o'clock this morning. The husband is treasurer of the American Lumber Company of Ninth street.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., July 18.—(Special.)—Mrs. L. B. Oehmichen, who committed suicide in Pittsburgh today, was formerly Miss Octavia Jarreau and resided at 1312 Liberty street. Both the husband and wife were of families of New Orleans. They had known each other for years and had been engaged a long time. Mr. Oehmichen lived in New Orleans until two years ago and was in the lumber trade. Members of his family are prominent in the state, one of them representing a large Philadelphia house here and is a member of the state legislature. Mrs. Oehmichen was a lovely bride and her honeymoon began June 15 under most auspicious circumstances. Letters were received by the family here daily from her telling of the new home and life in Pittsburgh. Only this morning's mail brought such a letter. Hardly had it been read when a telegram of ominous tone was brought to the door saying Mrs. Oehmichen had suddenly died. Inquiry where the telegram was delivered announcing her death and by her own hand, a half dozen young ladies and members of the family were in the parlor singing. The mother fell to the floor in a dead faint from the shock. Others were so grief-stricken that they were hysterical.

The only explanation her family can give for the deed is that she was a habitual sufferer from nervous headaches of the most extreme severity and was in the habit of taking medicine to relieve them. They believe she took the carbolic acid by mistake.

Ex-Sheriff Martin H. Hartzell Dead.

Former Sheriff Martin H. Hartzell died at his home in Somerset, Pa., yesterday morning, aged 56. He was one of the most widely known citizens of Somerset county. Until prevented by illness Mr. Hartzell was associated with extensive business enterprises. He was president of the Hazen Tannery Company, which failed several years ago, simultaneously with the failure of George White, who was a heavy stockholder. Mr. Hartzell lost heavily. Later on he was in business at Rockwood, Pa. Mr. Hartzell served one term as sheriff of Somerset county, during which time he executed the Boddy brothers and Peter Myers. At the close of his term Mr. Hartzell purchased the plant of the Somerset Mechanical works, which is still operated by his estate. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Albert and James, and by a daughter, Veale. He was a Mason and a member of the Johnstown (Pa.) lodge of Elks. The funeral will take place Monday evening.

Six horses and wagons, besides a lot of soiled laundry, were destroyed. The total loss is estimated at $10,000. L. Bloom, proprietor of the laundry, is in Cleveland. Employes yesterday stated no fire had been in the building since Friday.

LIGHT HOUSE IS STRUCK BY BOLT

Severe Electrical Storm Descends at Midnight on Atlantic City.

DARING FEAT AT SWIMMING

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Young's Ocean Pier, ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 18.

Striking the Absecon light house the most severe electric storm of the season swept over this city shortly after midnight last night. Its greatest fury was between the hours of 1 and 2 a. m. The rain came down in torrents. The light house was struck by a ball of fire that burned out wires and destroyed a considerable quantity of piping in the tall structure.

To win a bet involving a snug little sum, Clarence Howett, a prominent business man of Philadelphia, swam around the end of Young's pier tonight, unattended. The idea of taking the hazardous swim came to Mr. Howett while in discussion with a friend over swimming. The former expressed his ability to swim around the end of the pier, a feat often attempted but seldom accomplished, whereupon the latter took him up and wagered that he could not do it.

Repairing at once to an adjacent bathing establishment, Mr. Howett donned a bathing suit and started alone on his dangerous trip. He entered the water shortly after dark and swam out beyond the breakers without experiencing any difficulty, being much at home in the brine. He took things more slowly on nearing the end of the pier, however, on account of the nets in that vicinity. He made good time on the return toward the beach, and landed a short distance above the pier about 7:45 o'clock, but little the worse for the long test of his endurance. He was about three-quarters of an hour in the water.

Tomorrow morning the regular session will be held, and the election of officers will take place. With everything in readiness for the reception of those high in social circles who are horse fanciers, and a great many who are not of the "elect," but who are horse lovers just the same, the Atlantic City horse show will open for the sixth time in the Inlet park tomorrow afternoon.

Among the Pittsburgh visitors at The Gazette bureau today were Henry Henning, president of the St. Clair Savings and Trust Company of Knoxville, and burgess of the hilltop; and William P. Baumgart of the Pittsburgh postoffice. They engaged a boat to go fishing in the morning, and left the following list of fishes to be published in The Gazette as the catch:

Mr. Henning, 16 weak fish, 4 tomcod, 6 flounders and 12 sea bass; in all, 38, all of them weighing over five pounds. Mr. Baumgart, 12 sea bass, 17 weak fish, 5 flounders and 4 porgies, in all 38, and each weighing more than five pounds. Mr. Trimble agreed with them, but he declare he is not a fisherman.

Crossed Wires on the South Side.

Not an electric arc light in the South Side district was burning last night, but in several parts of the district the residents were treated to electrical displays. At South Fourteenth and Sarah streets, and at Uxor alley and Bread street the displays were most noticeable. The wires were crossed in some manner and flames shot up into the air at both places, setting the poles on fire.

OLDEST CITY IN THE WORLD FOUND BY ARCHEOLOGISTS

It Is Ancient Adab, Mentioned in the Code of Hammurabi, One of the Earliest Kings of Babylonia.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, July 18.—Udnunki, the ancient Adab, perhaps the oldest city in the world, has been discovered by the University of Chicago's excavating expedition in Babylonia.

This city has for many years been the object of search by orientalists. It is mentioned in the code of Hammurabi, an early king of Babylonia, which document was translated recently by Prof. Robert F. Harper, of the University of Chicago, who is director of the expedition.

Prof. Harper received the good news here today in a cablegram from Prof. E. J. Banks, field director of the expedition, who since leaving this country last winter for Bismya, in Babylonia, has announced many important discoveries. The uncovering of ancient Adab is the greatest triumph of the expedition and one of the most important archaeological achievements of recent years.

Dr. Banks informed Prof. Harper that he had found bricks bearing the syllables "Ud-nun-ki," at the lowest level of the ruins. He is certain that these bricks identify the city of Adab. With a force of 120 men he excavated the ruins at Bismya and found the remains of four temples, built one above the other, which he named according to the kings who built them.

QUAKER CITY IS ON QUICKSAND

Rapid Transit Company's Proposed Tunnel Is Feared by Property Owners.

THE CITY HALL IS SINKING

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Press Building, PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 18.

Quicksands, through which contractors for the Rapid Transit Company's Market street subway would have to tunnel in order to pass around city hall, as the route is at present outlined, may bring about a radical alteration in the plans. It is known that the Rapid Transit Company has in view a scheme for tunneling straight under the city hall to escape the dangers which excavations around the big building would entail.

If there is no departure from present plans it is contended by engineers that the adjacent skyscrapers will be jeopardized. Property owners along the route east of city hall to the Delaware river are apprehensive as to the effect of tunneling operations conducted at a great depth below the surface will have upon the foundations of their buildings. Owners and custodians in some instances have taken the precaution to secure photographs and measurements of property they deem likely to suffer as the result of the undermining of foundations. It is the intention to preserve these records for evidence, should occasion arise.

That deposits of the material which builders dread will be encountered by the subway engineers, there is no doubt. In irregular dents and areas quicksand has been found through a series of tests to exist from Sixteenth street to the Delaware river front. The most dangerous locality is said to be at the north side of the public buildings.

City Hall is Sinking.

"The north wall of city hall is sinking perceptively every year because of quicksand on which The Foundations rest," was the startling statement of an engineer acquainted with the soil conditions of underground Philadelphia today. Measurements show that the center of the tower, originally on a level with the remainder of the structure, has sunk eight inches.

"Although pains have been taken to obliterate cracks and fissures appearing from time to time in the public buildings, evidence of the gradual settling of the foundations remain.

"The pocket of quicksand beneath the city hall tower has been found to extend across Filbert street at a considerable depth below the surface. That tunneling operations carried on through this treacherous material would be likely to prove a menace to the foundations of the big Masonic temple is the opinion expressed by members of the committee in charge.

President Parsons of the Rapid Transit Company spoke evasively on the subject of these quicksands when interrogated today.

"Our plans at present are to carry the two branches of the subway around the city hall," he said.

To the suggestion of quicksand and its possible menace to building foundations he replied:

"That is an engineering problem that will be properly dealt with as conditions arise."

Several arrests have been made, but the police are unable to learn who it was that inflicted the fatal wound. Each of the prisoners declares his innocence.

Deputy Coroner S. W. Church and Dr. J. Guy McCandless were called to Carnegie yesterday to exhume the body of a 2-year-old child of John Pappicha, which had been buried two days ago. JURY APPROVES MEMORIAL HALL

Hugh McMann Pleaded Guilty to Manslaughter for Killing Edward C. Duggan.

PITCAIRN DENIES CHARGES

The proposed Allegheny county memorial hall to the soldiers and sailors of the civil war has again been taken up by the grand jury which reconvened yesterday. It affirmatively recommended a petition for its erection to the court. The petition will have to be passed upon by the September grand jury before the court will have an opportunity to investigate and pass upon it.

Almost a year ago the same petition was passed upon by two grand juries and was approved by Judge James R. Macfarlane. The court later withdrew approval and rendered the proceedings void. Under a special act of legislature the petition must be presented to two consecutive grand juries and then have the approval of the court before action can be taken for the erection of the memorial.

A large committee of old soldiers appeared before the jury. Among the men present were Judge Charles P. McClung, Maj. A. P. Burchfield, Hon. T. F. Rowley, chief clerk to the county commissioners; Col. Thomas G. Sample, A. S. Miller, Capt. H. H. Bengough, William Cramp, C. O. Smith, Col. Samuel Duval, Col. S. W. Hill and Charles Davis, county engineer.

Mr. Rowley explained that the present valuation of the county is $750,000,000, a growth of $150,000,000 in three years. He said that the purpose was to spend $1,000,000 in the erection of the memorial and that an additional tax of ½ mill would more than raise the revenue in three years. To show how the cost would be distributed, he said that the owners of property worth $1,000 would have to pay 50 cents a year; the owners of a property worth $5,000 would pay $2 50 a year, and the man assessed as a laborer would have to contribute 7½ cents a year.

Every member of the grand jury signed the petition, certifying their approval of the project. It fell to the foreman is the only member of the jury to sign the return.

The grand jury also returned the following true bills: Robbery, Thomas McCorcle; felony, Joe Hain, Peter Smith, jr.; burglary, Ollie Hershberger, Eugene Reynolds; entering a dwelling with intent to commit a felony, John Doyle, Frank Bell, William A. Ford, Stanislaus Bruno, Paul Goetz, Daniel Gould, Joseph Gillisee, Andy Hernicky, Ollie Hershberger, Eugene Reynolds, John Washington, Charles Thomas, Thomas McCorcle, George Johnson, Walter R. Strouse; larceny by bailee, James W. Bickerton; false pretense, Joseph F. Carr; pointing firearms, Mono Doconowitz, Colis Lagos, Mike Kasonowich; selling liquor illegally, Mary Craik, Make Scharoli, John Vanyura, Andy Pierce, John Kanyack; carrying concealed weapons, Mike Kasonowich; assault and battery, John Doyle, Joseph Ennis, John McGirr, Alex. Tworkowski (2); misdemeanor, Meyer Rosenheim, Steve Schenski.

Jacob Weinman has entered suit against Jacob Hoerner to recover $250 alleged to be due on a real estate deal. The defendant, it is alleged, purchased a piece of property in Penn township from the plaintiff for $16,300, and paid $100 cash. The balance, it is charged, came due April 1, 1904, and the plaintiff says he has been ready and willing to deliver the deed for the property.

The following executions were issued yesterday: Louis Adler Co. vs. James Farrell, $478 25; Jarecki Manufacturing Company vs. George W. Sherman, $972 94; Andrew S. Brazenet vs. P. G. Granberg, $69; Theodore A. Axtheim, et al., trustees, vs. Thomas I. Clark, $7 60 29.

John W. Taylor has entered suit against Ann Haywood, asking $1,000 damages, alleging libel.

Mary Martin has sued the Catholic Mutual Benefit association for $2,000. She alleges her husband, William Martin, who died on January 22, 1904, held a policy for that amount and that she was named as beneficiary.

In the United States district court a petition in involuntary bankruptcy was filed against the Sterling Pickling and Preserving Company of Allegheny. The petitioners, the Glenshaw Glass Company of Glenshaw, and Charles Wangler & Son, Frederick A. Hendinger and William Fisher of Allegheny, present claims amounting to $885 50. The petition was also filed, presented by George E. Scandrit, a partner in the Keystone Cycle Company of Allegheny. He gives the firm's liabilities as $8,-265 59, with no assets, and his personal assets as $100, with no debts.

In the equity suit of S. Dye against the Duquesne Mutual Casualty and Indemnity Company, the International Savings and Trust Company, receiver, has filed answer to the petition for the issuance of a rule upon the order of court levying assessment upon the policy-holders of the company. The receiver denies that it misrepresented to the court the true state of facts as to the resources and condition of the company, as it asks in the petition to be discussed and the receiver permitted to proceed and wind up the affairs of the company.

Hugh McMann entered a plea of guilty of voluntary manslaughter in criminal court for the death of Edward C. Duggan, which occurred in the Homeopathic hospital April 14 from injuries received two days before in Diamond square. McMann was indicted for murder, but the plea was accepted by the court. The defense asked that the prisoner be sent to Huntingdon.

Witnesses were examined by Judge Elliott Pittcairn, including the defendant, who said that Duggan was drunk and had called him names, which started a fight. He said he struck Duggan in the face when he tried to grapple with him. When struck Duggan's head hit the curb and fractured the skull, which caused death.

R. V. Pitcairn, committee of Albert Pitcairn, who was adjudged a lunatic, has filed answer to the petition asking for his removal. He avers that his brother, on account of his mental condition, is not competent to present such a petition, and questions the form and substance of Mrs. Pitcairn's petition. He asserts that it was not the intention of the court at the time ego would be dropped and that the present proceedings are similar.

In referring to the several items he charges against the estate, which are objected to, he says that his commission and other charges were embodied in his triennial account to be submitted to the court, and that it was anticipated that the court would decide whether or not they were allowed. The valuation of the stock in the tailor store, he says, is correct, as is the valuation throughout.

HELD FOR MURDER.

Architect Charged With Killing a Women Was Not at the Hearing.

Architect Titus DeBobula who, it is alleged, ran down and killed Mrs. Mary Stauffer in an automobile at Duquesne on the evening of July 3, was to have had a hearing before Alderman Reilly yesterday on the charge of murder lodged against him by the woman's husband, Andrew Stauffer.

DeBobula and his attorney, James F. Burke, did not appear when the case was called, and Attorney John Marron, who represented Stauffer, said he understood that DeBobula had waived a hearing for court.

In order to make the record clear, the alderman heard two witnesses, the husband, who gave hearsay evidence, and a spectator of the accident. The defendant was held on the charge of murder and his bail bond of $10,000 continued.

GIRL SUICIDE GIVES FORTUNE TO FRIEND

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—The will of Miss Bertha Marion Dolbeer, who jumped from a high window at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York several days ago, has been filed for probate. Most of her estate, valued at nearly $2,000,000, is given to her friend, Etta Marion Warren, to whom is bequeathed $300,000 in cash, $200,000 of the Dolbeer and Carson Lumber Company's stock at par value, the home and personal effects of Miss Dolbeer in San Francisco, and all the residue of the estate not otherwise disposed of. About $123,000 is given to other friends and relatives, $80,000 to charitable institutions, and $50,000 is set aside for the erection of a mausoleum in Cypress Lawn cemetery.

TO GET EXCURSIONS FOR COUNTRY BUYERS

Manager Wardrop of Merchants and Manufacturers' Association Confers With Official.

Manager James W. Wardrop of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association will go to New York today to consult with D. P. Farmer, commissioner of the passenger department of the Trunk Line association, regarding rates for excursions which will be operated into Pittsburgh beginning August 22. These have been arranged for the benefit of merchants in outlying towns surrounding Pittsburgh who expect to buy their fall stock in this city. The rates will be a fare and one-third for the round trip, and will be the first merchants' excursions ever arranged on local railroads.

"The success of our trade-booming trip through West Virginia calls for prompt action," said Mr. Wardrop yesterday. "It is making no optimistic statement to say that $1,000,000 worth of trade will be handled by Pittsburgh shippers as a result of this excursion. Buyers and sellers were never brought together in such close and harmonious touch. We found that dealers in the country towns want to buy in Pittsburgh and all they need is encouragement. When we secured concessions from the Baltimore & Ohio railroad offering direct through service and prompt delivery, we effected a ten-strike for Pittsburgh. Now we want to show our interest and sincerity by securing a passenger rate which will prove attractive.

"I expect to get Mr. Farmer's sanction and to proceed at once to advertise excursions from all the towns we have visited. August 22 will be a convenient date. In September and the early months of fall out-of-town dealers will have the advantage of the excursions to the Pittsburgh exposition. In November another special excursion will be run."

Applications for membership are in demand at the headquarters of the association. The success of the West Virginia excursion has resulted in many of the local manufacturers and wholesalers making a rush to join. C. M. Ewing, cashier of the Industrial National bank, says that he looked for the association's membership to be doubled within a few weeks.

PLENTY OF PAUPERS.

Immigrant Inspector Says Rate War Will Crowd Local Poor Farms.

Robert D. Layton, local United States immigrant inspector, predicts that the influx of hundreds of foreigners from European countries to this district will mean an unusually large number of public charges during the coming winter. He explained yesterday that their presence has not yet been felt, but is bound to be when the cold weather comes. Mr. Layton said:

"The people who come across the Atlantic by taking advantage of low rates, will likely have a hard time. They have come just because they could do so at small cost. Many are here taking a chance, expecting to become wealthy by a streak of good fortune that they have long dreamed about in connection with thoughts of America. Besides they got here at a time when the summer was well under way and their chances of getting work are not so bright as though they had arrived earlier. Many will go to farms to be fuller than usual on account of these unfortunates; this will either have to be the case or we will have to send them back to Europe.

Spend Less Money On Your Clothes

Most People Buy More Clothing Than They Need.

If you spend less money for clothing you will have more for the rainy day or for the pleasures of life. Nearly everybody buys more clothing than he needs.

If you send your suit to Linnekin's and have it cleaned and pressed it will be as good as new and the cost is trifling. Linnekin's will often save you the price of a new suit if you bear in mind when your clothing begins to look old that they will make a new suit of it in short order.

The distracting headaches from which so many women suffer make life a daily purgatory. If men suffered with headache as women do, business would be almost at a standstill. Does not the fact that women only suffer from these severe headaches suggest that there must be a womanly cause for them?

When the womanly organism is diseased, headache, backache, nervousness and sleeplessness are consequences which are sure to follow.

BULLS STILL IN CONTROL OF NEW YORK STOCKS

Steel Preferred, Atchison and Pennsylvania Lead the Upward Movement—Crucible Steel and Electric the Local Leaders.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

While the course of values in the New York stock market yesterday was not uniformly upward, the undertone was strong, and closing prices generally showed net gains. Several times it looked as though an overdue reaction was about to take place, but on each occasion the manipulators took up some fresh stock or rallied to the support of some old favorite, and the result was that at the close bulls were still in control. London prices came strong and higher, and foreigners were fair buyers on the advance, their purchases being estimated at between 25,000 and 30,000 shares. On the advance caused by this buying there was heavy profit-taking, which appeared to be most conspicuous in Union and Southern Pacific, and this checked the rising tendency in other parts of the list. The dealings were on a large scale, and the sales of the first two hours approximated 450,000 shares.

U. S. Steel issues were the leaders during the early part of the day, and Wall street made much of the startling of the Homestead mills of the company. The announcement that these mills were to run double was received with some surprise, in view of the recent reports of dullness in the trade, and the fact that the resumption was accompanied by a display of fireworks did not escape the cynical observations of those, some of whom have the effrontery to suggest that the fireworks were intended for reflection in Wall street. Steel preferred opened slightly higher at 82¾, and quickly reached 83, the highest for the year to date and the highest for the day. Late in the afternoon the stock sold off to 81½, but subsequently rallied and closed at 82¾, a net loss for the day of ½ per cent. The common, on the other hand, closed strong at 12⅞, the highest of the year and a net gain of ⅜ per cent for the day. The sinking fund bonds rallied to 104, and closed at 103¾, a decline of ¼ compared with the close on Saturday. In the remainder of the industrial list Amalgamated Copper and American Smelting common and preferred advanced to the highest prices of the day and closed at net gains of ¼ to ⅝ per cent.

Atchison and Pennsylvania were leaders of the railroad list. The last named naturally advanced on the strength in Steel preferred, the inference being that a resumption of business in the iron trade should increase Pennsylvania's earnings. The stock opened higher at 119¾, and after a slight period of hesitation rose to 121, the highest since last January. Atchison advanced 2 per cent to 74½ in the face of strong grain markets, and closed at a net gain for the day of 1¾ per cent. Selling of the strong Vanderbilt stocks on the list. St. Paul made a new high record for the year by selling up to 163¾, but it later reacted to 148¼, and closed only ¼ higher for the day. The remainder of the list was moderately active, but dull, and only marked by a falling off in the volume of trading and an increase in manipulation by the professional interests, the "western crowd" and a prominent professional trader being responsible for the final rally. One of the features of the late dealings was the taking up of high-grade but inactive railroad stocks and bidding up the price, apparently for the purpose of creating the impression that the public investor was in the market.

A half score of prominent stocks reached the highest prices of the year yesterday. In nearly every instance, however, there were grounds for the belief that the movement was based upon shorts covering. In the case of Steel preferred it is generally believed that there was a large and influential short interest existing, and the specific short because of the reports of dullness in the iron trade, which was reflected the past two months in decreases in both gross and net earnings. Atchison has been sold confidently, first because the season for winter wheat was late and unfavorable, and later because of the damage by floods. It has made the largest advance since the verification of the damage reports, and the talk of higher prices is still very prevalent. Chicago & Northwestern, Louisville & Nashville, Reading, Southern Railway, St. Paul and Norfolk & Western were among the stocks which sold at the highest prices of the year yesterday.

One reason why the strong wheat market had so little effect in Wall street was that weather conditions throughout the west were very favorable for harvesting, and the advance was based largely upon the higher foreign markets and the decline in English consols, which was construed as having a bearing upon the war situation.

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange Crucible Steel and Westinghouse Electric were the strongest stocks. Crucible common advanced to and closed at 94¾, and the preferred rallied a fraction to 36¾. Westinghouse Electric advanced to 32¼ and closed at 81¼. Air Brake sold at 134. There was more trading in pig iron warrants than for some time past. Only one small transaction occurred at the bank call.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Pittsburgh traders were much puzzled over the sudden starting of the Steel Corporation's mills at Homestead, and the announcement that they would run double turn. Wall street was evidently puzzled also, and messages were sent here inquiring whether a radical change had taken place in the iron market. For two or three weeks past it has been apparent that there was a decided sentiment in the iron trade, but it was not known that the improvement had extended to the placing of actual orders for material. Pittsburgh is skeptical of the lasting qualities of the improvement, and although the first quarter of the year has just begun, there are confident predictions that the earnings of the Steel Corporation for the quarter ending with September 30 will be smaller than for the quarter ended June 30. A week from Tuesday the regular dividend period is scheduled to meet and declare the regular quarterly dividend on the preferred stock, and it is supposed that the statement of earnings will be made public as usual. On the present possible actual earnings will be reported, instead of estimated earnings for June, and it is expected that the official figures will show profits in excess of $19,000,000.

Westinghouse Electric was the most active stock on the local board yesterday. It opened higher at 82½ and the bulk of the sales was at that figure. In the afternoon it sold off, and although the final sale was at 81¼, the stock closed offered at 81¾, with 81¾ bid.

Crucible Steel common was the firmest of its group, and on sales of 500 shares advanced to and closed at 95¾. The preferred on sales of 450 shares advanced to 39½, and closed at that price bid. United States Steel common closed fractionally higher, while the preferred closed slightly lower.

There was more doing in pig iron warrants on the local board yesterday than for some time, 2,200 tons changing hands. Masten & Co. and Morris & Brown were buyers and Hooker & Wilson sellers.

The coal stocks were unusually quiet yesterday. Sales of Pittsburgh Coal preferred amounted to only 35 shares at 87¼ to 87½. There were no sales of the common, which closed at 18 bid, 14 asked. Eleven shares of River Coal preferred sold at 20, unchanged from the last previous price. The common closed at 8 bid, 8½ asked, without sale.

Manufacturers Light and Heat was firm, selling at 31 and closing at that price bid. Peoples Pipage was higher at 21¼ bid. Philadelphia Company sold at 40, a decline of ¼. Ohio Fuel Supply was unchanged at 37 bid.

There was no sales of Union Switch and Signal, but the stock was higher at 68 bid, 72 asked.

Central District and Printing Telegraph (Bell Telephone) stock advanced to 120 bid, the highest of the year. There were no sales and no offerings of stock.

Messrs. Hooker, Masten and Lotz, the committee representing the Pittsburgh stock exchange, returned yesterday from their conference with representatives of the New York Produce exchange over the matter of rules for dealing in pig iron warrants. After two long sessions, during which the subject was thoroughly discussed, it was decided that no further effort would be made at this time to harmonize the rules of the two exchanges which have listed the warrants of the American Pig Iron Storage Warrant Company.

A comparative statement of the earnings of the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Greensburg railway for the first half of the current year shows the remarkable increase of 22.6 per cent over the corresponding period last year. The gain is in the face of the severe winter weather during the first three months, and the contraction which has taken place in general business during the second quarter. The figures are as follows:

	1903.	1904.	Gain.
January	$ 7,411 80	$ 8,098 50	$ 1,286 70
February	6,495 72	8,848 87	2,350 15
March	8,658 14	10,027 50	1,369 39
April	7,992 98	9,492 38	1,500 40
May	12,381 20	14,412 92	2,031 72
June	13,350 87	15,874 73	2,523 16
Total	$56,967 38	$66,644 73	$12,677 35

Asa P. Davis has made application to have his membership in the Pittsburgh stock exchange transferred to his partner, Samuel Hastings Davis, from the 25th of the month. Mr. Davis will remain with the firm.

"I think the market a sale, because there has been too much manipulation and too little real buying," was a private wire message received by a Pittsburgh house just before the close of the market yesterday.

The Financial Chronicle, in the current issue, gives a summary of railroad gross earnings for June and for the half-year. For the month of June the final result shows a small loss—$502,985, or about 1 per cent. For the first half of the year, however, the net gain is 4.71 per cent, or $1,696,158. Of the 198 roads reporting, 103 have gained and 95 have lost. The Chronicle says: "The final result is somewhat disappointing, but it was to be expected, in view of the fact that the last week of June (it being the tail-end of the crop season), did not come up to that of last year, while the grain receipts at the western market fell much below last year's. The 4,705,000 bushels received for the five weeks ending July 2, 1904, against 48,928,807 bushels for the corresponding period of 1903. It is needless to say that comparison is with previous earnings for June, which had been steadily increasing year by year for many years past. The following shows the half-yearly record back to 1894:

	Gross Earnings.
Jan. 1 to June 30.
1904 (194 roads)	$365,975,599	Dec.	$74,780,232
1903 (193 roads)	370,848,181	Inc.	10,478,574
1902 (198 roads)	396,841,584	Inc.	19,689,987
1897 (195 roads)	401,263,090	Dec.	2,506,113
1898 (192 roads)	465,598,731	Inc.	55,692,328
1899 (181 roads)	494,944,896	Inc.	25,846,425
1900 (184 roads)	556,721,160	Inc.	59,450,035
1901 (167 roads)	618,787,274	Inc.	56,199,428
1902 (152 roads)	657,295,282	Inc.	42,362,976
1900 (137 roads)	707,878,928	Inc.	84,271,432
1904 (194 roads)	760,345,158	Inc.	12,958,087

Note—Neither the earnings of the Mexican roads nor the mining operations of the anthracite coal roads are included in this table.

A strong sentimental influence was exerted by the resumption of the advance in Pennsylvania after a period of profit-taking following a previous advance. The fact that the price rose quite easily through 120 was regarded as an indication augury for the market. It will be remembered that the $75,000,000 stock issue was underwritten at 120 and as the fall below that showed a loss on those subscriptions it has been assumed that there were very large holdings waiting to get out when the stock should recover to that price. This proved not to be the case yesterday.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The directors of the Silver Hollow Consolidated Zinc Company have just declared their sixth monthly dividend of 1 per cent a month on the par value of the stock. The stock of this company is largely owned by Pittsburgh people, although the property is situate in Marion county, Arkansas, where the company owns acreage and operates a large zinc concentrating plant. This company was organized last year by P. C. Campbell and others, of Pittsburgh.

Two years ago Mr. Campbell and his associates organized the Consolidated Troup Mining Company, which has paid 20 consecutive monthly dividends, and has returned to the stockholders in that time nearly 50 per cent of their investment. This company has paid seven 2 per cent dividends and then increased the monthly rate to 2 per cent.

The Mercantile Metal Mining Company, which is operating several zinc concentrating mills has paid four consecutive quarterly dividends of 5 per cent each, making a total of 20 per cent in the past year.

June production of Calumet and Arizona was 2,624,000 pounds of Lister copper. Copper Queen's June output was curtailed somewhat by the changes incident to the removal to the Douglas smelter, and was about 3,400,000 pounds. The smelter should make when running at regular capacity, from 3,800,000 to 4,000,000 pounds a month.

In the Oliver shaft of the Calumet and Arizona mine, they are now 110 feet in ore, most of which is sulphides, and continuing from 710 feet in the shaft downward to the bottom. The Campbell shaft has struck a large body of leaner grade than come above. This shaft is not yet within 200 feet of the depth at which the adjoining Lowell shaft of the Copper Queen found its beginning of ore, which was at 2,000 feet, and 1,005 in the Lowell corresponds with 1,085 feet in the Oliver; so the ore that was cut at 710 feet in the latter is very much richer than what was cut at 1,085 in Lowell.

Drifts in the Lake Superior and Republic are again cutting ore, this time carbonates that run well up in copper. This is in the southwestern parts of the workings.

Pumping begins in the bottom level of Calumet and Pittsburgh this week, after a year of preparation. Two pumps of a combined capacity of 3,500 gallons a minute against a static head of 1,500 feet have been installed and connected up, and a very heavy hoist is now under erection. The strata of rock cutting into the shaft at about the 900-foot level, and below, seems to be saturated with water, and this has been in such volume that the company has lost more than 12 months' time in its development. It is now in shape to take care of an immense volume of water, with the best and most powerful pumping plant in the southwest. Less than 200 feet additional depth will make this an immense copper producer and start it for a place as one of the great mines of the world. This much is absolutely known to the management.

The work of drifting by the Pittsburgh and Duluth Company is producing results: In two of the drifts the ground is very encouraging, in one of them chalcopyrite is showing up to 12 per cent copper, and in the other they have met soft and caving ground with seams of mud, etc., all of which presage ore later. It is quite possible that the company will abandon some of its options, however, and reduce its acreage. It has been reported that its August payments are to be postponed and the reorganization made later, but nothing has been settled yet. The Duluth officers of the company are now figuring on the matter.

The new shaft of the Saginaw Development Company, holding an option on the World's Fair and Mulhelm claims, is now down 160 feet, and is going down at the rate of about 15 feet a week. This depth has been reached with remarkable speed. The shaft has been in conglomerate since 70 feet from surface, but dipping from the 320 to the 400 foot level the management expects to get into lime within the next few feet. But on Junction, the property next east, the conglomerate has been found to have a very steep dip, so much so, that it is thought that the Junction will have great depth on World's Fair to get through it; but it probably does not maintain a continuous dip there. In the old workings on this property the shaft ran into a limestone belt that dipped sharply to the southeast, and it was on the contact of this seam, 20 to 25 feet wide, that ore was concentrated. In the new workings they hope to reach this same line about 2000 feet down.

BIG PURCHASE IN WOOD STREET

Robert E. Stewart Sells No. 433 to Sarah E. and Mary H. Sawyer.

IMPORTANT BUILDING PROJECT

An interesting transaction in Wood street has just come to light, having escaped publicity when the deed was registered at City hall. It involves the sale of the property at 433, formerly owned by Robert E. Stewart, and now conveyed to Sarah E. and Mary H. Sawyer. Mr. Stewart bought the property in 1902 from the Herdman heirs for $100,000, which was at the rate of $8,611 a front foot, or $71 42 a square foot. It is not known what the consideration was in the recent sale, as the sum named in the deed was nominal. The buyers own other downtown properties and are said to have taken the Stewart lot merely for an investment. It has a frontage of 11.5 feet on the west side of Wood street, between Diamond street and Fifth avenue, and a depth of 50 feet to Sturgeon alley. The building is a three-story brick occupied by the Regal Shoe Company. This is the first sale in this square for months and its outcome will be awaited with interest by owners of adjoining or nearby properties.

Six houses belonging to O. C. Zellner, on the south side of St Clair street, near Hampton avenue, Nineteenth ward, have been sold to Olive C. Pedder for $16,000. The houses were built two years ago and are nine-room reception hall dwellings with all modern conveniences. They rent for $50 a month and occupy a plot 150x120 feet.

Homestead Will Be Razed.

The Union Realty Company is preparing to put on the market an addition to the Wellsbrown Ingleside allotment in the Nineteenth ward, most of which has been sold since January. The addition will be in two parts, consisting of 62 lots facing on the north side of Penn avenue, between Rebecca and Graham streets, and the other of 12 lots in Broad street, immediately in the rear of the Penn avenue frontage. The Penn avenue lots will be 20x94 feet and will be sold at $200 a front foot, or $4,000 a lot. A strong feature in their sale will be the entire absence of building restrictions, making it possible to erect store or apartment buildings on the property, which is well adapted for either. The Broad street lots will be 25x90 feet and sell at $50 a front foot. This property is only one square from the Montana and Idaho apartments, two of the finest dwellings of their kind in the city, and near Negley avenue, where frontage is valued at $600 a foot or over. The plotting of it means the razing of the Hamilton Avenue homestead and the William Smith home, occupied by the Ursuline academy.

Through the Real Estate Trust Company and W. J. Visner & Co. John B. Jackson has sold to Thomas McNeil, who is a part of the old Aaron French property facing on the south side of Juniata place, near Linden avenue, Twenty-second ward, for $10,000. The lot measures 107x200 feet and will be improved with a $20,000 residence. The former company also sold for Mr. Jackson to Charles M. Clarke an adjoining lot, 70x200 feet, for $7,000. The buyer will build a $20,000 home.

Building Operations Fixed.

Architects Robinson & Winkler have awarded to D. M. Fair & Son the contract for building a new school at Ridgeville, Beech, which will cost $40,000. The building will contain 12 rooms and will be started at once.

Architect Marius Rousseau has given the contract to Eggers & Graham for the erection of the theater of the Monessen Opera House Company at Fifth and Schoonmaker avenues, Monessen. The building will cost $30,000 and will be the finest theater house in the valley. The same architect has plans nearly completed for a six-story fire-proof hotel to be erected by Thomas White in Fifth avenue, opposite the Baltimore & Ohio station, Wilkinsburg. The building will cover a lot 40x90 feet and cost $70,000. Bids will be taken about August 1. Architect Rousseau also has plans for an $8,000 residence for Dr. Duff in Berrysville avenue, Allegheny, for Mrs. M. Ivory McKeesport, 2230-132, Isenberg st.

The Bruening Cork Company, through its architect, Max Bruening of the East End, has let the contract to C. E. Smith of Oakdale, Pa., for the building of a six addition to the present plant. The building planned will be a five-story structure 62x170 feet, and of slow burning construction. It will cost about $58,000, exclusive of the machinery, and will give the company the largest cork plant in Western Pennsylvania.

Architects Thomas Boyd & Co. have plans for a three-story brick apartment house to be built by Denslow Bros. at California and Arthur avenues, Allegheny, at a cost of $20,000.

Architect J. N. Campbell of Ingram has completed plans for the first apartment house in the Chartiers valley, between Carnegie and Bodkin's, the Bullitt block, which will cost $20,000 and be erected this summer by Dr. J. S. Crawford at Bennett and Hoodlow streets, Ingram. It will contain five flats, a store room and an office for Dr. Crawford.

Rumpus Among Builders.

Architects, contractors and property owners in New York are "up in the air" over the recent passage of an ordinance providing that no building more than 75 feet high shall be erected after January 1 next, unless of fireproof construction. The builders of New York denounce the ordinance and efforts are being made to have the mayor veto it. Three principal objections are raised to the ordinance: First, that in the opinion of builders and architects there are no fireproof woods; second, the excessive cost of so-called fireproof woods; third, the absolute futility of installing these woods in buildings when they are not permanently impervious to fire. Prominent builders claim that fireproofing qualities artificially imparted last at best only three years. They claim also that fireproofing wood makes it so hard that no tools will hold an edge while working in it. In addition they say that there has never been less of fire in fireproof buildings which could have been prevented by the use of fireproof wood. All the woodwork in such buildings, it is argued, could be entirely replaced by fire without in any way endangering the structural safety of the building or without the fire being communicated from one apartment to another. If the ordinance should pass, builders say, it will result in practically stopping the building of costly apartment hotels in localities where the frontage is too valuable for any other purpose. It is almost impossible now to get a building loan for less than will pay 3 per cent on the investment, and if the proposed ordinance should go through, it is claimed, rents would advance very materially to meet the increased cost of building. A rigid investigation is likely to follow the objections filed by the builders as fireproofing is so much in favor in New York that the measure is regarded by many as essential.

LOUISVILLE, July 18.—A special meeting of the stockholders of the Southern Pacific road will be held Wednesday in Bowling Green, Kentucky, to vote on the question of issuing $100,000,000 of preferred stock. The Southern Pacific, though it owns no lines in this state, is a Kentucky corporation, and all meetings of the stockholders are held in this state.

BUTTER IS THE SAME; FLOUR IS VERY FIRM

Rains Have Been Hard on Wheat—New Grapes Have Arrived Here.

There was no change in the butter situation yesterday. Some dealers looked for a decline, but the Elgin butter market left prices the same. There was some shading on prices here last week and the market is still easy. New eggs are on the upward trend and are bringing full prices. Cheese is slow and showed no change locally. The only change in the grocery line was a 5-cent reduction in the price of navy beans.

Coffee continues firm at the advance of some time ago. Receipts so far indicate a very moderate coffee crop. Heavy rains over a large area of the coffee districts and hot, dry weather was needed have caused serious damage. This and the scarcity of spot wheat for milling purposes has caused a strong market, which is likely to rule until new wheat comes in.

Receipts of produce were light yesterday, as is generally the case on Mondays, especially on shipments by express. Potatoes showed easy at the prices of Saturday, with arrivals amounting to 50 cars yesterday. Among the new fruit arrivals yesterday were the first California grapes, which are quoted below. Six cars of peach came in and were sold on the rivals were 17 cars. Some of the peaches on hand are of poor quality and are bringing low prices. Receipts will likely be heavy for some time. Twenty-two cars of watermelons and nine cars of cantaloupes arrived yesterday and were in good demand. Banana and lemon trade continues very good and new crop oranges are looking well. There was a sharp decline in California canteloupes yesterday.

There was no change in hay, grain or feed locally, the market continuing very quiet, with little selling except in a small way.

WHEAT IS STRONG ON FOREIGN ADVANCE.

Rain in Red River Valley Is Also an Important Factor.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, July 18.—Rain in the Red river valley and a sharp advance at Liverpool caused decided strength in the wheat market here today. At the close September wheat showed a gain of 1⅛@1¼c. Corn is down ¾c. Oats are off ⅛c. Provisions are practically unchanged.

At the opening in wheat there was apparently but one opinion, namely, that the early news strongly favored higher prices. To begin with, the Liverpool market showed a marked advance, prices being up over a penny. That of itself was sufficiently significant, but it was also accompanied by a statement that the advance was partly due to a bullish report of the Russian crop as published by a London newspaper. In addition to the world's shipments were light, and the amount on passage showed a decrease of over three million bushels. In addition to the foreign situation heavy rains were reported in the Red river valley. Shorts were active bidders at the start. With light offerings initial quotations on September were up ⅝ to ¾ at 88⅛@88⅜c. As the session advanced buying became more general, and the market from the southwest, where harvesting operations were reported again in full blast. Sentiment, however, was bullish the entire day. The close on September was at 88⅝@89c. July sold between 86¾c and 88c and closed at 87½c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 88,800 bushels. The amount on passage decreased 3,280,000 bushels, and the visible supply decreased 750,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 513,700 bushels, compared with 684,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 360 cars, against 366 cars last week and 305 cars a year ago.

In sympathy with the strength of wheat the corn market opened quite firm, but sentiment soon changed, an easier tone prevailing the greater part of the session. Excellent weather conditions were the principal influence tending to offset the effects of the bullish wheat market, but traders in the corn pit were affected considerably by larger world's shipments and by reports of increased acreage. September opened unchanged to ⅛@¼c higher at 49⅜c to 49½c, sold off to 48¾c and closed at 49¼c. Local receipts were 283 cars with 19 of contract grade.

Strong winds and scattered trade in oats, with the main feature being buying of September by a prominent commission house. The market showed some firmness under the influence of strength of wheat, but selling by pit traders soon caused a reaction. Crop advices were favorable. After opening unchanged to ⅛c higher, at 32⅞@33c, September declined to 32¾c and closed at 32¾c. Local receipts were 127 cars.

Buying by shorts caused considerable strength in provisions at the start, but the early gain was subsequently lost on profit-taking. Owing to the strike there was no disposition manifested on the part of pit traders or packers to trade in provisions and in consequence the market was dull the greater part of the session. At the close September pork was up 2½@3c, at $12 90@12 92½. Lard and ribs were each up 2½c, at $6 95@7 00, respectively. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 25 cars; corn, 404 cars; oats, 147 cars; hogs, 9,000 head.

PERRINE GOES TO ALLIS-CHALMERS

Expert of the General Electric Company Changes His Position.

HAS HAD LARGE EXPERIENCE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, July 18.

The General Electric Interests have just lost the services of one of their most expert mainstays, Frederick A. C. Perrine, having resigned his $50,000 position with the Stanley Electric Manufacturing Company, which is controlled by the General Electric Company. Dr. Perrine, it was reported in prominent electrical circles here today, will become the chief consulting electrical engineer of the Allis-Chalmers Company, which concern has been making preparations for some time past to enter the electrical field on a very extensive scale in opposition to the Westinghouse and General Electrical companies, and has already secured the services of a number of leading Westinghouse men.

Dr. Perrine is regarded in the engineering business as one of the best all-around electrical experts in the country and is particularly well-known in connection with long distance transmission work. While professor of electrical engineering in the Leland Stanford, Jr., university, he was chosen as consulting engineer of the Stanley Electric Company, which company took the principal part in generating electrical energy at the mountain streams of California and transmitting it to the cities on the Pacific coast. He has been the recipient of several testimonials from leading electrical bodies in Europe for his work in that connection and was awarded a gold medal by the Paris exposition authorities for his supervision in the building of the 150-mile California line—the longest power transmission scheme in the world.

Up to the time of the absorption of the Stanley company by the General Electric Company, which took place in January, 1903, Dr. Perrine was president and general manager of the former concern. Since then his official title has been first vice president and general manager, though virtually he has remained at the head of the company. Under his management the company became a bidder for large electrical contracts and its plant at Pittsfield, Mass. was extended until it was manufacturing every known electrical device.

CHAUTAUQUA

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 18.—(Special.)—The subject for the third week of the Chautauqua assembly is, "The School, State or Parochial." A statement by Father A. P. Doyle of the Catholic World will be given on the Catholic side of the question and the Protestant will be propounded by Henry W. Thurston of Chicago. The two speakers will not indulge in anything in the nature of a joint debate, yet the two points of view will be very clearly given. The series of 5 o'clock lectures by Dr. Richard G. Boone, editor of Education, will round out the subject.

A Woman's Christian Temperance union institute is being held at Chautauqua this week, in charge of Mrs. S. M. D. Fry of Chicago, who is secretary of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union. Mrs. Fry addressed the Women's club this morning on "Methods to Secure Reform Legislation in Washington."

At the devotional hour Dr. Hulley gave the first of his series of biblical lectures on "Judas, or Our Possible Self." Dr. Hulley gave a brief description of the betrayal of Jesus by Judas Iscariot, and said that the motive is thought by many to have been the note that Jesus would establish a kingdom on earth. The disciples were looking for an earthly kingdom and Judas shared with them unworthy motives in following Jesus. He suffers for comparing the treason of Judas Iscariot with that of Brutus and with that of Benedict Arnold. Dr. Hulley spoke of the easy down-grades we travel when we deviate in small matters from the line of duty until we reach the edge of a precipice and are over into the pit before we realize it. It is not the result, but the motive, by which we are judged and the motive which makes us traitors to small trusts is the same motive which makes us traitors to great ones.

H. W. Thurston delivered a lecture on "The Public School as a Moral Force" in the amphitheater to a large audience this morning. Owing to a change in the day's program, Dr. Boone lectured at 2 o'clock instead of 5, and many who had planned to hear him were unable to keep appointments. Mrs. Kedzie Jones lectured on "The School an Ally of the Home." The second artists' recital, by William Sherwood and Col. Marcusson, was given at 5 o'clock. The heat has been so oppressive yesterday and today that the attendance at the various lectures has fallen off.

CREDITORS ARE SKEPTICAL

Doubt Whether Sully Can Make Good His Offer of a Compromise.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Daniel J. Sully & Co. and Daniel J. Sully, individually, today made formal offers of compromise at a meeting of their creditors, but final action was deferred until Wednesday, as it was not shown that the bankrupts have funds sufficient to make good the compromise offer of 40 per cent cash and 10 per cent in 90 day notes. David Miller, the trustee, announced that he had $1,000,000 in cash on hand and $500,000 in good paper. He said it would need about $2,000,000 more to make good the 40 per cent offer.

Following this announcement it was decided that no definite action could be taken until Mr. Sully made some absolute announcement of the time at which he will be able to deposit the amount, $3,000,000 subject to the order of the court on the report of the trustee. The meeting was then adjourned until next Wednesday.

CLUB MAKES CONTEST FOR LIQUOR LICENSE

WASHINGTON, July 18.—(Special.)—Attorney James R. Hayden, on behalf of the Pennsylvania club, today filed with the district excise board an application for a rehearing on the application of the club for a license to dispense liquor to members and guests at the club house, 926 Fifteenth street, northwest. The excise board rejected the club's application for liquor license last Tuesday, and since that time Commissioner MacFarland has received numerous letters from members of the Pennsylvania delegation in congress protesting against the action of the excise board. Mr. MacFarland today received such letters from Representatives Arthur L. Bates and D. E. Lafean of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA GIRL TO WED A DIPLOMAT

NEWPORT, R. I., July 18.—(Special.)—The engagement of Miss Alice Blight, daughter of Atherton Blight, a retired banker of Philadelphia, to Gerald Lowther, British minister to Chile, is shortly to be announced. Minister Lowther was here several seasons ago as first secretary to the British embassy. Miss Blight is considered one of the handsomest girls in the Newport set.

Water Blamed for Fever.

Water taken from a pump in front of 48 Marion street is believed to be the cause of an epidemic of typhoid fever in the vicinity of Marion and Locust streets. Two deaths and 12 cases have been reported among residents of the neighborhood. The pump has been closed. People of the district secured their drinking water at the pump.

STOCKHOLDERS WANT INSPECTION

Private Investigation Will Be Made of Cramp Steel Company.

CHARGES OF MISMANAGEMENT

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 18.—Stockholders of the Cramp Steel Company, owning a property at Collingwood, Ontario, and who paid real money for their belongings, are up in arms against what they charge to be rank mismanagement of the property. The greater portion of the money which was put into the company came from Americans. A meeting of the shareholders will be held on July 25 in Toronto, when it is expected that the result of a private investigation of the affairs of the company by these protesting stockholders will be made. They expect a very lively time at this meeting and are prepared to take drastic action with the view of forcing the return of funds which they claim have been misspent.

One of the stockholders, in discussing the matter today, said that it was a second United States Shipbuilding Company on a small scale. A circular has been issued by these stockholders, who have as their attorneys MacMurchy, Denison & Henderson of Toronto, it states that the company was incorporated with a capital of $5,000,000, of which $3,250,000 of the common was issued and about $500,000 preferred was also issued and sold for cash. Of the amount of common stock outstanding, it is alleged that over $2,000,000 was issued to officers of the company, nearly $500,000 being taken by one man.

Charge Against Management.

The old management is charged with having raised $400,000 in cash from the sale of stock, and instead of installing a blast furnace, which was part of the agreement, "an old second-hand small-sized open-hearth plant was purchased in Indianapolis at a cost of about $60,000, to which should be added the cost of installing it at Collingwood, a liberal estimate of the total amount expended would be about $200,000, leaving fully $200,000 of the $400,000 accrued from the sale of stock unaccounted for."

To avoid paying duty into Canada, this furnace was imported as "scrap iron." It is also charged by this committee that without the authority of the stockholders the company had borrowed $52,000 from the American Trust Company, giving a mortgage which would enable the trust company to seize the plant within 24 hours' notice. This notice, it is claimed, has been given and the trust company, being anxious to secure the money loaned, is making efforts to take the property, which, if successful, would wipe out the claim of the present shareholders.

The purpose of the committee is to reorganize the property and save it for the stockholders, but there seems to be some question as to the method of procedure, and the memorandum says:

Inspection Is Justified.

"Without making reflection upon any individual member of the management, it can be safely stated that there is enough in the history of the company to justify vigorous action and inspection of the books before any reorganization scheme is carried out."

The first clash between the stockholders who were endeavoring to protect their interest, and the old management occurred on July 14, at Toronto, when the old board of directors, consisting of A. B. Chandler, William M. Cramp, W. Seward Webb, H. L. Burridge, Charles Cramp, Sir Charles H. Tupper, J. Wesley Allison, J. R. Mowan, A. MacLean MacDonnell and Maj. Collins were voted out of office and a new board of five members elected as follows: Maj. J. A. Currie, A. MacLean MacDonnell, Duncan Donald, W. J. Lindsay and J. T. Dugald.

MORE NIAGARA POWER.

New Company Is Formed With a Capital of $10,000,000.

BUFFALO, July 18.—A new power canal enterprise, involving an expenditure of $10,000,000 was put under way today when the Niagara County Irrigation and Water Supply Company, filed at the county clerk's office, at Lockport, a map of its proposed canal, the route of which is from La Salle, where it takes in the water of Niagara river, to the Devil's Hole, below the falls where there is a sheer drop of 300 feet. The power house will be located at Devil's Hole.

President Wortham stated today that the financial end of the enterprise has been arranged through New York parties whose names he would not divulge. The company is operating under a charter procured in 1901. It is stated that the plant will produce 150,000 horse power.

MURDER THE RESULT OF ANARCHISTS' ROW

NEW YORK, July 18.—(Special.)—A stabbing and shooting affray occurred early today in a saloon at Main and Essex streets. The participants were mostly Italians and said by the police to be anarchists. One man died after being taken to St. Joseph's hospital, and several others were injured by pistol and stab wounds. The dead man was Pasquale Vergilli, 30 years old. The officers arrested a dozen Italians, who either took part in the row or were present.
